ACHS cracks down on school attendance

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

As the school year progresses, parents of students in Antioch Community High School have begun to receive notices of their child's absences. This is an effort by school officials to both improve school-parent communication and encourage parents to take a stronger stand on absences.

According to school records, 8 percent of the students were absent in September. In October, the figure was 10 percent, and in November, 10 percent. These absences result in an overall reduction in state aid to the school, which with its current $2 million dollar deficit, is in no condition to lose additional dollars.

No exact dollar figures were available of how much the school loses per absence. Superintendent Robert Schley indicated that while the loss is not huge, it does have an "impact."

"It does cost us money," said Schley. "It certainly has an impact."

The computer generated letters are sent when students miss five days, 10 days, and 15 days. Between 15 and 18 absences, a personal letter is sent to the parents for a conference. According to state guidelines, students who miss more than 18 days can be dismissed from school for (Continued on page 53)

Arson claim premature in Loon Lake Landing fire

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The fire that destroyed the Loon Lake Landing Restaurant in Antioch Township has not been ruled arson despite reports to the contrary and the numerous signs which were posted around the property. The fire, which was discovered at about 6 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 30, completely gutted the restaurant.

According to fire department officials, the investigation is continuing with assistance of outside agencies. Officials say that the cause of the fire has not yet been determined and it had been incorrectly reported that the cause was arson. Furthermore, officials say that the signs, which boldly proclaimed the word "arson", were improperly put up.

"This isn't a small fire," said a fire department representative. "It is still under investigation."

The restaurant, which is located off Grass Lake Road near Route 83 has changed both names and owners several times in the last few years. It is currently owned by Joel Kennedy, who has operated the restaurant as the Loon Lake Landing since some time in July.

Larsons unwitting plaintiffs in Grass Lake complaint

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

David and Debbie Larson, named plaintiffs in the Complaint and Administrative Review filed in Lake County by Virginia Ross, were apparently unaware of the action. Ross, who attempted to get several variances in order to build a group dwelling senior center on Grass Lake Road in Antioch filed the action after the board rejected her application on Sept. 29.

According to Debbie Larson, the only reason their name appears on the complaint, which named 49 local residents as defendants, is because the land in question was sold by land contract. Because of the land contract, the title of the property remains in the names of the Larsons until the contract is satisfied.

"This is not the type of activity we would want to be involved in," said Larson. "All we wanted to do was sell a piece of property."

In an effort to explain their position, the Larsons have sent out a letter to their former friends and neighbors who are now defendants in the complaint. In the letter, Larson denies any prior knowledge of the complaint and states that they have never spoken to Mr. Conzelman, Ross' attorney of record. According to Larson, they have never even received a copy of the complaint until a former neighbor sent a photocopy.

"We don't consider ourselves plaintiffs," said Larson. "We are just a private banker. It is very upsetting to us. This is not how we handle our affairs."

this year's holiday food drive. After receiving a list of names from various sources, each group, in conjunction with Piggly Wiggly, make sure the people on their lists will have a happy holiday.

The Lions will be distributing the food baskets on Saturday Dec. 18 while the Rotary Club plans to deliver on Sunday Dec. 19. Mark Lubkeman is the chairperson of the Rotary Club drive and Richie Kufalk is heading the Lions Club efforts.

The township will be distributing baskets to residents involved in the general assistance program. More than 175 foods baskets will be given out from all three groups.

The baskets contain turkeys, cranberries, holiday food, as well as necessities like milk. Gift certificates for (Continued on page 53)

Board, teachers settle, students back in class

NORTH CHICAGO—Students in District 187 filed back into classes this week after teachers and district officials found common ground and ended a strike that has divided the community for the last seven weeks. The timing was crucial. If the parties had not settled the strike before Dec. 10, the district could have lost critical state funding. The agreement means that the district will be able to make up the 30 school days lost during the strike by the end of the fiscal year on June 30, 1994. If the strike had not ended, the district would not have been able to reschedule the days in time, thus losing state funding.

Trustee gets stolen from while away

FOX LAKE—Village Trustee Jim Thillen and his wife Denise, zoning board member, returned from a cruise to Mexico Dec. 6 and discovered two thefts which occurred sometime while they were away. Denise said that 25 cords of firewood totaling about $1800 was taken, as well as a dump truck from their company, ELBT Construction at 500 S. Rte. 59. The wood has not been recovered, but the truck and the driver who has allegedly just gotten out of prison, was located minutes later by Fox Lake Police who found the vehicle heading down Rte. 59. No damage occurred to the truck, but several village telephone wires were torn down because the driver was not familiar with operating the dumpster.

Cuneo estate targeted for new development

VERNON HILLS—A contractor is eyeing the Cuneo estate for development of a up-scale golf course community, but village officials say preliminary designs are sketchy. The last serious proposal was submitted in the summer of 1990 when a Northbrook-based firm outlined designs for a similar golf course community. Administrators will not release the name of the firm submitting the new plans but seem optimistic that the proposal will draw community approval. The plans call for an 18-hole golf course and possibly single family homes and multi-family townhomes according to Village President Roger Byrne.

School district being cornered by growth

WADSWORTH—Officials of Millburn District 24 are concerned residential development will push them over capacity and force them into making an addition to its current facility. The board heard Brian Harris of Westfield Homes explain their proposed Millburn Farms and Bonner property requests. Millburn Farms was already approved by Lindenhurst Village Board and is about 250 homes. Westfield is hoping to break ground in the summer of 1994. The Bonner property is in the early concept stages.

Former village hall to be burned down

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The former village hall is being burned down on Dec. 12 as part of training for area fire departments. The training exercises will take about nine hours before culminating with the structure being torched to the ground. Fire departments from Round Lake, Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Antioch, Libertyville, Grayslake and Wauconda will participate. The fire departments will practice techniques such as ventilation, finding lost people, and controlling a fire.

Township may increase senior housing options

WAUCONDA—Township trustees are proposing to build a senior citizen housing complex near Wauconda High School to increase affordable housing options for older adults in the area. The trustees will first conduct a feasibility study to see if more senior citizen housing is needed in the area. If so, they will put a yes or no referendum question on the March 15 ballot, asking for public support. However, the complex will be completely funded by those who live there, said James P. Keagle, township supervisor. According to township officials, the facility would not result in any real estate tax increases to voters. The income generated after the bonds are retired would be used to operate the complex, Keagle said.

Residents threaten officials with lawsuit

KILDEER—Village officials were threatened with a taxpayers lawsuit if they do not solve the dispute involving sick and vacation payouts to the village administrator. Trustees were given public notice of the possible legal action at the Dec. 6 meeting, which saw three proposed solutions suggested and one turned down. William J. Provenzano, an attorney representing the village administrator, has been invited to attend the board's Dec. 20 committee of the whole and continued board meeting.

Christensen resigns LHS coaching post

LIBERTYVILLE—Head football coach Dale Christensen submitted a written letter of resignation to Superintendent Donald Gossett this week, hopefully ending a three-week barrage of hype, miscommunication and community divisiveness that followed a controversial phony shooting before a playoff game several weeks ago. Christensen announced his resignation at the Dec. 6 football banquet, saying he had reflected upon the ramifications of the situation to the high school and to the community and felt his resignation was the best course under the circumstances. Christensen will continue in his teaching duties at the high school. Board of Education President David Ransom said the board would not pursue any disciplinary action against Christensen and expressed a willingness to have the matter settled.

Dr. Dam suggests to board about plaza

FOX LAKE—Dr. William C. Dam, former mayor of Fox Lake suggested to the village board that a good idea for the up-for-sale Lakeland Plaza would be a TIF (tax increment financing). TIF's were created mainly for blighted areas. Trustee Jim Segin however, is not too keen on speaking about anything until after the bidding Dec. 15. "I'm confident it will be sold on Wednesday," said Segin. "TIF districts are easy to talk about but TIF's are not always possible," added the trustee. Dam said he isn't quite as sure the plaza will be sold. "There's a good chance that no one will buy that property on the 15th of December," said Dr. Dam.

Subdivision plan warrants more study

GURNEE—Due to residents' complaints about Scarsdale Development, Ltd., the Village of Gurnee is considering setting up a fund that would protect buyers in case the builder does not follow through. Consideration of the fund delayed a decision on the preliminary plat of Northwoods Trails, a Scarsdale project, until Jan. 24 at 6:30 p.m. It would be located on 37 acres bounded on the south by Route 120, the north by Country Trails subdivision, the east by railroad tracks and the west by O'Plaine Road.

Holiday grinch hits village, takes lights

LAKE ZURICH—A Christmas Grinch has been roaming the streets of Lake Zurich, attacking residential light displays and making some villagers unhappy during this joyful Holiday season. Three homes had light displays damaged and stolen during the late night and early morning of Dec. 3 and 4, totaling more than $500. Two of the victims told police they suspected teenagers were responsible.

District 116 to add computer system

ROUND LAKE—The school district has approved a new computer system for the administration. The new system should enhance record keeping at each school and make it easier to track students when they move to different schools in the district, according to Kurt Valentin, business manager. Valentin said the new system will help assist matching payroll with the budget functions also.

Sierra Club fights road extension plan

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

Spread some joy

The true point of view. The person who said that Christians should not celebrate holidays is full of it. While with Halloween, I agree, it is the celebration of the devil, Christmas is where we celebrate the day that Christ is born. Being that they are religious holidays we should be spreading the joy to everyone.

Worried about winter

I just moved to the Round Lake area. I love it so far. It is quiet and everyone seems to get along. But, how are they in the winter months? Are they kept from snow and ice?

Nylon tastes terrible

I think that if you cannot eat it, you should not wear it. If this person wants to know what an animal goes through, get your belly-button pierced or your nipples pierced. Then you will know just 1/10 what an animal feels. Fur makes me sick. Women should adorn themselves with their own beauty, not with dead animals.

Flagging our errors

When I first subscribed to your newspaper 18 months ago, the proofreading was poor. Then you made a conscious effort to improve it and things were much better. But, in your Christmas supplement, you rose to new heights in the annals of proofreading when you included the Australian flag in article on Austria. Congratulations.

Editorial note: Dear reader, We certainly meant no offense to either the people of Australia or the people of Austria. You are absolutely correct and we apologize. We have a large book we used to copy these flags and as you can imagine, the two flags were next to each other.

Try working together

I'm amazed at the number of people calling about the BEST Committee. Do they forget that if it wasn't for BEST we would have a new school and still have a deficit? Don't they know that the teachers salaries should be known public? And this should help in making a decision. BEST is an information group only. Maybe they should work with the school to help up with our problems.

Real punishment

The hoopla the sheriff's department is making about their holiday turkey dinners is just that, hoopla. Anyone who has dined there for 24 hours knows that the food there is referred to by the inmates as road kill. The food served by the Lake County Jail is inedible bull-%$&! Breakfast usually consists of a sweet roll instead of a nourishing breakfast, inmates are lucky if they get an egg a week. Lunches are just inedible slop that tastes like it was picked up off the county highways. And dinner is usually some substance similar to Spam. Many of the inmates pass up on the meals and eat candy bars. We need an investigation on the kinds of food served. No person, no matter what crime they are accused of deserves to eat the kind of slop that is being served. The one time inmates get a good meal is just a whitewash of what Grinnell is feeding his inmates. I have had first hand experience of 56 days.

What witch hunt?

I am from Antioch and I think that the BEST group did a fantastic job publishing teachers salaries. Maybe Lakeland Newspapers should spend more time printing this type of information instead of trying to organize witch hunts to destroy the credibility of people who challenge the educational monopoly.

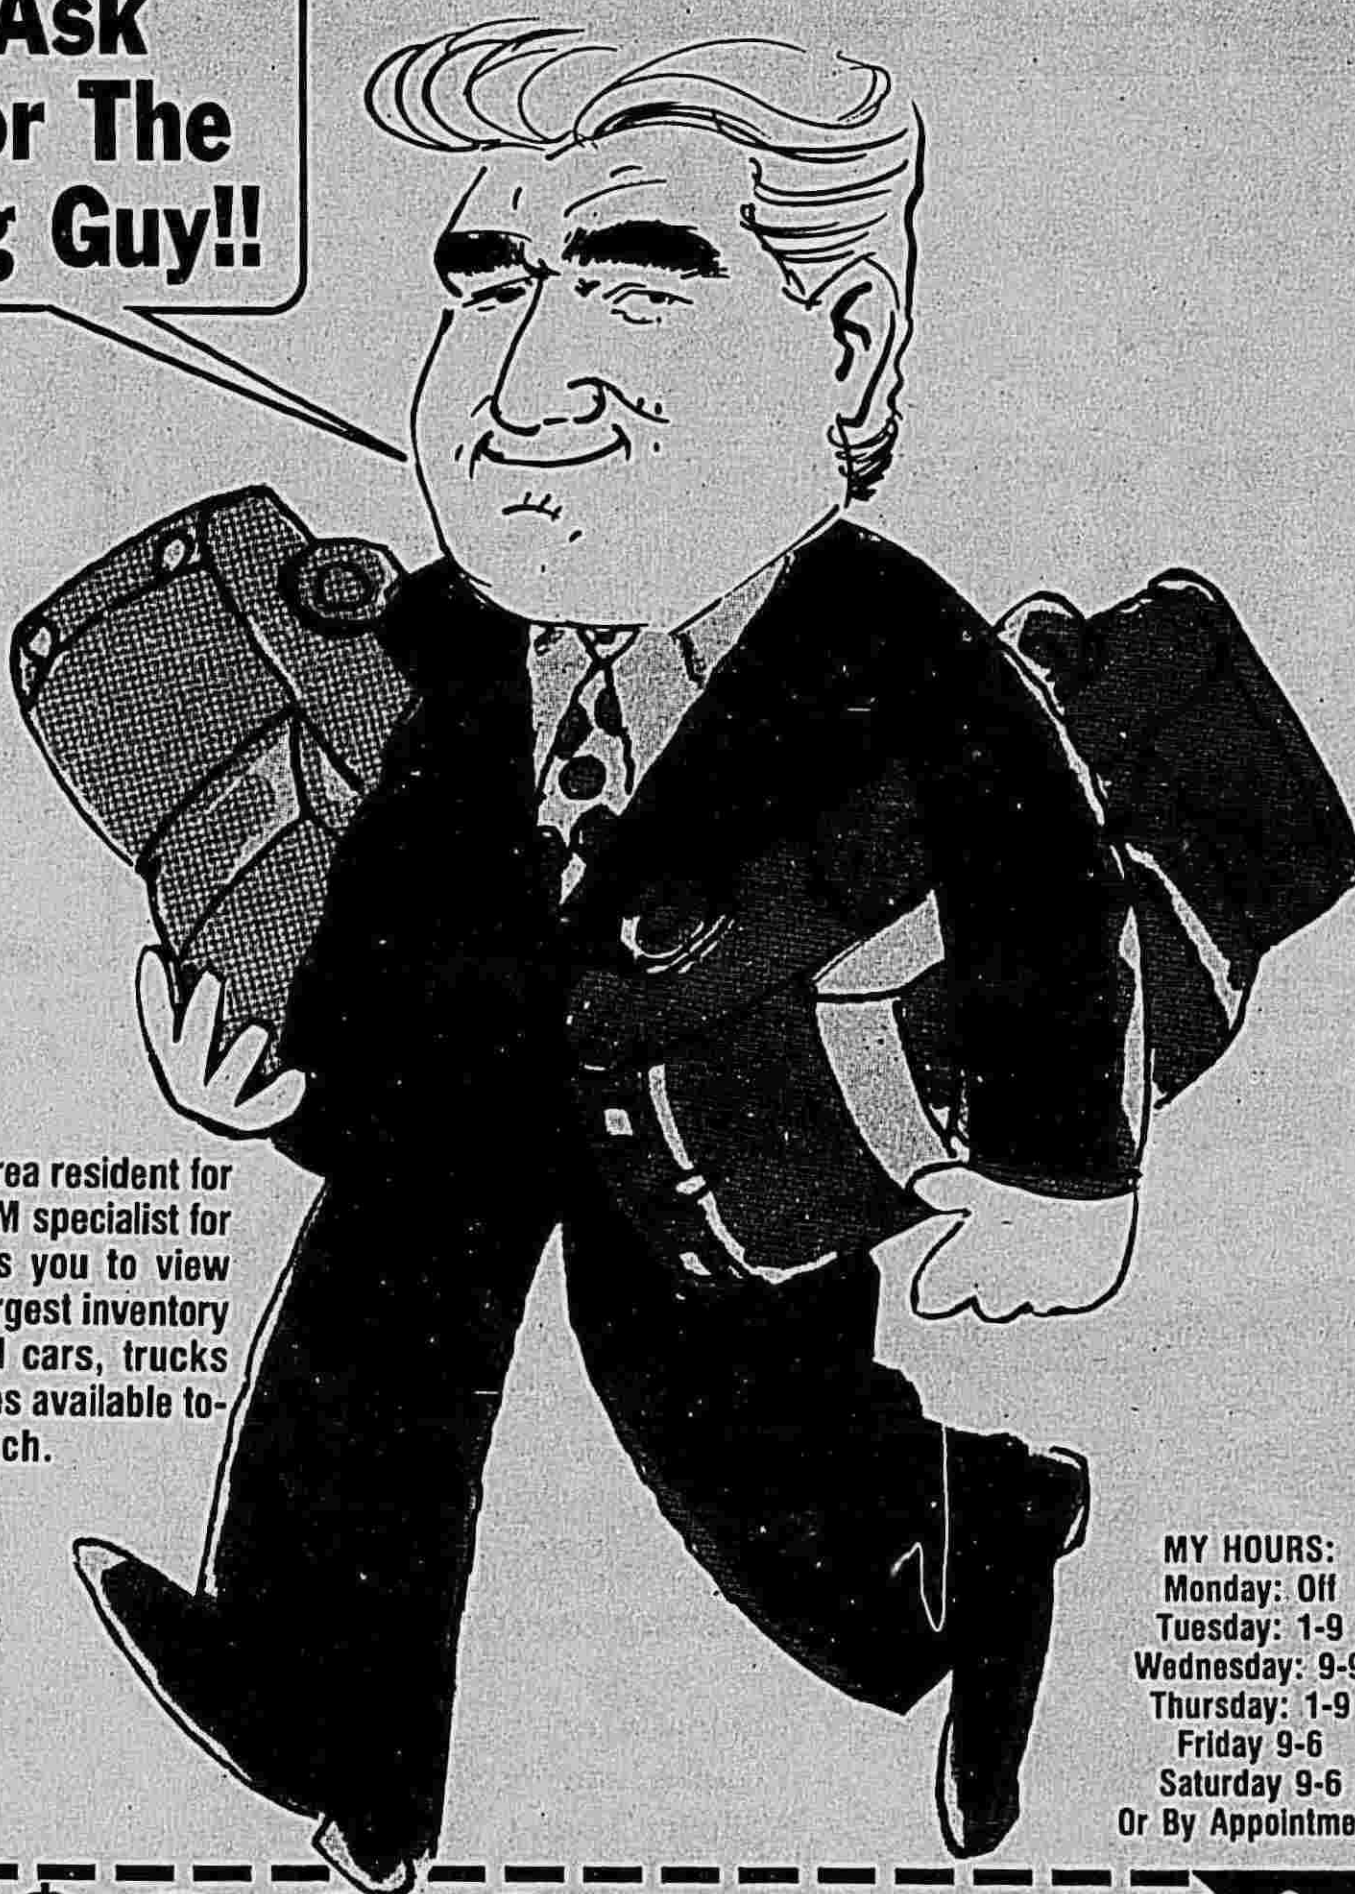

Rudman confusion

This is a repeat call from the time the equipment malfunctioned. In the Fox Lake paper you called Graham Rudman a former senator from New Hampshire. Warren Rudman is a former senator from New Hampshire. Philip Graham is a former senator from Texas. The Graham Rudman Bill is a bill passed by congress.

Meters

The Antioch Village Board has authorized the police department to cover the parking meters located in the downtown area during the holiday season. The meter will be covered throughout most of December until January 15.

Code review

An ordinance has been authorized to permit the appointment of electrical code committee. Under state law, a village must appoint a commission to review any changes in the electrical code. In order to update the current code, there must be a committee to review it. The committee is required to meet once a year. A three person building code review committee has also been authorized. This committee will review the village staff's recommendations for updating the building code. Three local people involved in the construction industry will be appointed.

Wake zone policy discontinued

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The 150-foot, no wake zone policy which was in effect last summer to combat bank erosion will not be continued on Chain O' Lakes in the '94 season.

According to Dr. William Dam, chairman of the Waterway Agency, the Lake County Sheriff's department has asked the agency not to impose the no wake zone because of enforcement issues and the uncertain future of the Waterway Agency.

"Last year because of the flooding, we imposed the 150-foot no wake zone without a public hearing," Dam told the audience at the public meeting of the Army Corps of Engineers. "But, we have decided not to have public hearings right now. The Sheriff's department has asked us not to permanently impose the 150-foot no wake zone. There would be logistical problems because the Waterway Agency may not be in existence."

According to a press release from Judy Martini, director of the Waterway Agency, the no wake policy was very popular with lakefront homeowners.

"The advisory board of the agency has said that they do not recommend the Waterway Agency be in support of the no wake and I'm really surprised to hear this," Martini said in her press release. "From what I have heard from homeowners, I thought the people supported this concept and loved the idea. It not only helps protect the shorelines from erosion, but also keeps the traffic farther away from the homeowners' property giving them more privacy."

However, the future of the Waterway Agency is uncertain and right now the agency must focus on their continued existence. In April a non-binding referendum will be on the ballot for voters to indicate to the state legislature whether or not to have the agency continue.

Dam encourages residents interested in the continuation of the no wake policy to attend meetings of the agency and voice their opinions. He indicated that resident activism would be helpful in achieving a return of the no wake policy.

"Personally, I am for it," said Dam. "If enough people petition and attend meetings..."

Developments get limited extension

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board has approved extensions for the completion of improvements for both the Pine Hill Lakes development and Windmill Creek. However, with the Pine Hill's extension, restrictive deadlines have been set.

Resident of Pine Hill sent a letter to the village board requesting stern measures against the developers in light of their history. The village had considered calling the letter of credit in an earlier action because of the failure of the developer to do the asphalt work and contract for the needed streetlights.

The final lift of asphalt was put into place last month and now the developer has a contract with Commonwealth Edison to put in the streetlights.

While the overall extension for Pine Hills is until June 5, 1994, specific deadlines have been set that the developer must reach or face the possibility of the village calling the reduced letter of credit.

A complete permit application for the cleaning of ponds 1 and 2 must be submitted before Jan. 31.

Plans for the walking path must be in by Feb. 10. On or before April 15, the private drainage easements must be graded and seeded and other erosion control measure must be in place.

If any of the deadlines are not met, the village board will consider calling the letter of credit which has been reduced from $105,00 to $78,000 because of the asphalt work that has been completed. If the letter of credit must be called, the entire amount is called, not just a portion.

If the village has to take that drastic action, the village itself will essentially become the developer.

The Windmill Creek extension to complete improvements will expire on Jan. 17. However, it is expected that another extension will be required. The developer requested an extension for one year in order to complete erosion control measures and public sidewalks. According to Village Planner, Robert Silhan, more investigation is needed.

"This is not the same situation as Pine Hills," said Silhan. "I am looking beyond the sidewalk issue."

Waterway Agency committee, state to work on flood control

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

An advisory committee to work along with the state on flood control issues was created by the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency.

Bruce Bossow, one of the directors of the agency, motioned to the agency board last week to develop a seven member committee that would include an Agency Board member from each county, a member of the Fox Riverfront Federation, a member of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club and an IDOT Division of Water Resources appointee.

Vice Chairman of the Agency Advisory Committee Bernard Varhanik said, "This is a good start. If it's supposed to be a management agency, let's see it get motivated in managing."

In a summary of all dredging work completed in both counties, it was noted there was more dredging than in any previous year, despite flooding.

Director Judy Martini moved to have the agency continue its participation in SAMP (specialized area managing planning). According to Martini, "SAMP" is an intergovernmental steering group working together for the environmental protection, user safety and comprehensive planning and development of the Fox River system.

At the meeting, Executive Director Karen Kabbes was praised when Chairman Dr. William C. Dam read a letter from U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Lt. Col. David Reed.

"We all appreciate the positive differences your professional leadership has made in the attitude and direction of the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency," stated the letter.

Take a carriage ride through downtown Antioch

Special anniversary

As I mentioned last week, this month marks the fifth year I have been writing this "Hometown Goodies" column. Once again I would like to thank Lakeland for making this space available each week. My original intention, as I was writing this anniversary column, was to look over all of the "Hometown Goodies" stories over the past five years to list and personally thank all of the fine individuals and organizations who have contributed to the success of the column. As I began to compile the list, it was much more extensive than I realized. I decided to shorten my message of gratitude as follows.

Keep those tidbits coming, people, for without you there would be nothing for me to write about. My readers often share stories about special vacations, family reunions, births, milestone birthdays and anniversaries, wedding plans, scholastic accomplishments, town events, organization fund raisers, welcome to newcomers, PTO functions, sporting competitions, pet stories, gardening tips, comical bloopers, out of the mouths of babes, etc. Happy anniversary to us all.

Carriage rides

There are three more dates to participate in a carriage ride through downtown Antioch, Sundays, Dec. 12 and 19 and Saturday, Dec. 18, from 3 to 6 p.m. The cost is only $5 per adult and children are free. However, carriage rides are free to all with a December sales receipt of $25 or more from a participating Antioch merchant. For more information, please contact the Antioch Chamber of Commerce or the Antioch Village Hall.

Student Council

The November meeting of the Grass Lake School PTO had a wonderful turnout. As part of the evening's activities, the newly elected student council representatives and officers were introduced. The auditorium lights were turned off and replaced by a lone spotlight manned by fourth grade teacher, Dave Tomei. Then the PTO vice-president, Linda Boerman, introduced the council members "Chicago Bulls Style." As their names were called, they filed out into the spotlight and enjoyed the honor of much applause.

Congratulations to the council representatives, Angie Fragassi, Ryan Pinkowski, Sara Ritter, John Gollon, Jr., April Kirk and to the council officers Eric Ritter, treasurer, Mike Boerman, secretary, Candice Kasprzak, vice president and Jenny Cardis, president.

Kelly Gucito, Jenny Hart, Victoria Lara, Megan Obecnay, Nicki Rognstad and Kirsten Smith. These eight fine, caring girls are all members of Girl Scout Troup No. 1336 and they definitely practice the girl scout creed to help others. Each year the Grass Lake School PTO give a donation to the different scouting troops operating out of the school.

When the girls learned that the family of a member of a local Brownie Troop was suffering hardships because of a recent fire to their home, the girls of Scout Troop No. 1336 decided to give the PTO money to the family. It was their own decision and their scout leader, Kay Gucito, many PTO members and myself are very proud of their charitable decision. They have learned, at a very young age, that it is "better to give than to receive."

With caring, young individuals such as these girls in our midst, it looks like our future will be in good hands.

Topped

Miss Marie devised what she thought was a sure way to win a bet at Camp Crayon. As we gathered in our activity circle, she told the children they would all be turkeys by the end of the day. Little Seth Davis took the bait and said "Turkeys—No way!" Miss Marie said "I bet you five cents." Seth decided to take her on. When we completed our project for the day and the children manned their turkey headbands, she said "Seth you are all turkeys so you owe me five cents."

The little guy conceded and told her he would bring in the five cents next time he came. The following day he walked in with a sheepish grin on his face and his hands behind his back. When Miss Marie approached him for the pay off, he produced five plastic bags, each containing a different fragrant material. Thus he gave her "5 scents." Not exactly what Miss Marie had in mind, but she had to admit they were scents and there were five of them. Now it was her turn to concede as little Seth definitely topped her this time.

AUGS

The Antioch Upper Grade School would like to thank the Rosen family for their kind donations of books to the school library. The science department has three students involved in the EMERICA "Earth Time Scholars Program." This is a regional science fair where students develop a project, write or videotape a presentation of their project and then display the project at the EMERICA conference in May. The participating AUGS students are Rebecca McNeill, Erin Walsh and Kristen Hungarland. Many students achieved the honor roll for the first quarter.

Congratulations to everyone who succeeded in this academic area. Special recognition is extended to the students who made the straight "A" honor roll. Eighth grade: Abigail Alder, Alexis Dayhuff, Amanda Gannon, Sharon Hansen, Reginald Hughes, Shoshannah Kent, Kelly

Hurtz, Kristin Lynch, Josh Mack, Michael Nielsen, Kristin Scopel, Meagan Tripp, Amy Vanderkooy and DJ Vogel;

Victory Lakes holds food drive

It's sometimes hard to believe, but there are still many Americans who go to bed hungry every night. And some of them are your neighbors in Lake County. To help make sure the needy residents of the Lake Villa Township enjoy some good food during the holidays, Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, Lindenhurst, is holding a community food drive from now until Dec. 20.

Area residents are invited to drop off toiletries, canned goods and other non-perishable food donations in the convenient food drive bin located in the reception area of Victory Lakes, 1055

Grand Ave., Lindenhurst, from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., seven days a week. Residents of Victory Lakes will package the food and distribute it to the Lake Villa Township Pantry. The food pantry, which was established in 1989, distributes food supplies on a temporary supplemental basis to needy township families.

Sequoit Creek watershed benefits from Eagle quest

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

An Antioch teen desiring to earn Eagle Scout ranking has joined the effort to stabilize Sequoit Creek.

In one of his final projects, John Lueck, a freshman at Carmel High School, worked more than 20 hours on stabilizing the bank of Sequoit Creek where it flows behind Antioch Upper Grade School.

The project was suggested by AUGS seventh-grade science teacher Bob Brown. Brown explained that seven years ago, a bigger culvert was installed to prevent flooding up river. However, the bigger culvert allowed a greater force of water to rush through, which led to erosion of the riverbank.

"We were in jeopardy of the river changing its course," said Brown. "You solve one problem and create another."

It's hoped that John Lueck's project will solve this problem. John built three wooden lunkers which were set against the bank. The lunkers will also provide habitat for fish. Rocks were piled around the lunkers. The area will be covered up with dirt and planted with grass and reeds.

John was helped by his father, his brother, Kevin, who is also an Eagle Scout, and his friend Mike Nobler.

"John's a real hard worker," said Brown, who taught John as a seventh-grader at AUGS.

Brown said Sequoit Creek is often used as a natural laboratory for AUGS students. He noted this is the fourth Eagle Scout project in the creek basin. Others included the building of a nature trail, installing wood duck nests, and building a bridge.

ACHS referendum committee prepares for March showdown

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The ACHS citizens group is preparing its battle plans for the upcoming referendum in March. On Wednesday, Dec. 15 at 7 p.m. the Citizens for ACHS are presenting a public meeting.

This meeting will provide information about the school and what the referendum committee is trying to accomplish. However, at this time, the school board has not yet even put a referendum on the ballot. The next scheduled school board meeting will not be until next week.

It is not known how much money this referendum will ask for if the board decides to put it on the ballot. The school board will have a long range planning session on Monday in which to determine its "philosophical position" concerning the needs of the students and the budget.

"They need to decide at this point if they can live with the current level of activity," said Superintendent Robert Schley. "If they can, the amount asked for will be lower."

Road crews gear up for winter

A reminder to Antioch Village residents that the snow parking regulations are in effect. It is unlawful to park any vehicle on any street in the village for a period longer than three minutes for the loading and unloading of passengers, or for 30 minutes for property, at any time after snow begins to fall and exceeds one inch of thickness.

There is no snow parking ordinance for Antioch Township roads. According to Mark Ring, Antioch Township road commissioner, there are generally few parking problems. No ordinance exists because the township does not have its own police department to enforce it. The township relies on the Lake County Sheriffs Department.

Las Vegas Restaurant

The Katris family. This is one of my favorite places, as always, and while you're dining, look around at the beautifully decorated mirrors. That's exactly what waitress Louisa is now doing.

Bob Ruggles, an excellent electrical contractor, just arrived with Blanche, being served by Pam Estrada.

And according to tradition, the old year soon going out, with 1994 coming in, we'll be watching for our dear friends who frequent the Las Vegas: Vernon Gilbertson, Ed Bauman, Carol Corrigan, Gladys Risberg, Kathy Davis, Ruth Richards.

I see Oliver Hunt and wife being served by Rita Torres. Likewise for Dr. Donald Skidmore and Evy in a front booth, being catered to by Shirley Vaughn. And there's another heavy hitter, Donald Amundsen sitting at the counter by Henry Hoffkamp. Howard Wells just walked in. Harold Mason, retired police officer, one of Antioch's finest, seated by pretty Maria Bruha. Bob Anderson just arrived.

Jean and Walter Rybicki being joined by Steven Straukus, and taken care of by my ideal waitress, Jean Benser. Joe Pechulis and mother Mae, a former neighbor, over in the dining room. I missed Bob Wilton earlier, but glad to know he's recuperating okay according to brother Bill Wilton. Jim Leahy and family are here.

Happy to see one of my favorite friends, Mabel Lou Weber, a very talented lady. I love to hear her play and sing.

Back around Nov. 10 the Katris family had the grand opening of their beautiful new "Waterfalls Restaurant and Banquet Facility" out west on Route 173 and Tiffany Road.

If you're ever in the vicinity of Kenosha, don't fail to stop in at the beautiful sunshine restaurant belonging to Gus Diamantopoulos and his lovely wife Yahna and please relay our fondest holiday wishes. Thank you.

Bobbie's Lakeside Restaurant

Bob Fidanowski, proprietor. "Welcome Mat" Realtor, Addie Goodrich is talking to an excellent golfer Geo. Ptak at the counter. Glenn Fox and Paul Zeien are reminiscing. The Effingers, John and Mildred are just leaving, as Richard Irman comes in, Carol Jurgansen waving over to Helen Thompson.

A nice feature about Bobbie's place is that he not only holds on to the former patronage, but adds new faces, from being pleased with the good food and sociability. That also applies to Melvin Gustafson.

Marvelous Marilyn Edwards, popular waitress, has seen all sides of the restaurant world and is loved by all as she serves two of my favorite neighbors over in a wall booth, Mary and Eugene Hermano.

Bill Pflaum, talented pianist, has a stack of mail to check most days as he relaxes in a window booth. And now it's just about time for the holdovers from "Footlights 1993" to be coming in.

The front booths will be filled by the very pleasant parishioners from St. Peters Parish. Let's name a few. To wit: Kathie Davis, Gertrude Lorenz, Lottie Vejvoda, Clare and Bob Kadera, The Lombardo's: Sam and Frances, professional waitress, Penny Soulak is their hostess.

Trudy Ogden and members of her fine family are seated in the back section. Sharon Albers is nearby. Milton Tate, a well liked person relaxes in a booth. Haven't seen Whitey Allen or Ora Pritchard lately.

Off the cuff

If at times my column seems similar to other years, you're absolutely right. Because I'm strolling the same Antioch streets, meeting mostly the same people, in the same places. Moral to all this is: "Let's all just be thankful we're still around to take another stroll." Amen.

This is the second part of Russ Fairchild's holiday column.

Marks challenges Depke on need for Yorkhouse

by MARTHA A. MARKS

Make one excuse and people will probably believe it. Make half a dozen and they'll likely doubt them all.

A few months ago, when the Lake County Board was being pushed to fund an engineering study of the Yorkhouse Road extension, I asked a simple question: Why?

Why spend almost $600,000 to find a way to run a road through a forest preserve and a superb wetlands restoration project that draws scientists from around the world? Why spend many millions more building a half-mile road that few people seem to want or need? Why the rush to build it now, when money is tight and taxpayers are fed up with taxes?

The first excuse Chairman Depke tossed out was lame in the extreme: Because it's been on the books for 20 years, and we're finally getting around to it.

The second excuse was equally lame: We have to extend Yorkhouse, because we can't widen Wadsworth Road; that would destroy the historic village of Wadsworth. Many County Board members laughed outright at that one. Blink as you drive through Wadsworth, and you'll miss it. Literally.

Out came a third excuse: To give people in Waukegan and Zion another way out in an emergency. Since I don't live in the affected area, that answer made at least a modicum of sense to me. There is, after all, a nuclear power plant in Zion. (Although it did make me wonder if we shouldn't be spending that $600,000 to study nuclear safety practices if the power plant was such a danger to our citizens.)

Now that Commonwealth Edison is working overtime to allay fears that Lake County will soon be renamed Chernobyl County, the question has reared its head again. Why?

So here's Bob Depke's latest excuse: We're building the road to handle traffic.

Which begs a few more questions. If traffic is the "reason," why weren't we told that to start with? If traffic is becoming such a problem on Yorkhouse, why aren't the people who live there clamoring for a solution, instead of rallying to stop the road? If new development in the area will bring several hundred homes and add to traffic congestion, as Depke says, why is so much development being permitted in the area? (Maybe that's the problem that really needs addressing.)

Could it be Depke has a reason he doesn't want us to know?

Could it be he's pushing the road to accommodate his pal, the one who's building those several hundred new homes at Midlane Country Club?

Could it be he aims to extend Yorkhouse westward to the open areas near Old Mill Creek which will be ripe for heavy-duty development if only he can finagle better access to the area?

Could it be this road extension is just another ploy to get taxpayers to pay for the infrastructure that Depke's developer buddies need to make their next big profits?

"Several excuses are always less convincing than one," wrote Aldous Huxley. How true.

Editor's note: Martha A. Marks represents Lake County Board, Dist. 21 of Vernon Township. She is a Republican and a first-term member.

Yorkhouse Rd. dilemma

Question how much criticism can politicians and planners endure to build controversial road extension through wetlands project?

Advocates of an expanded county highway system, from politicians to professional planners, are confronting an unprecedented amount of criticism in their insistence to extend Yorkhouse Rd. through an environmentally sensitive area that has attracted world-wide attention for an innovative wetlands restoration project.

Criticism ranges from charges of "what's in it for you?" hurled at County Board Chairman Robert Depke (see adjoining commentary column this issue) to ridicule of Martin Buehler, director of the Div. of Transportation for suggesting that the Yorkhouse extension will afford an opportunity to showcase how modern highway construction can be built "in harmony" with a wetlands project.

The debate over whether the Yorkhouse Rd. extension is feasible, worthwhile or necessary has settled into the familiar battle in Lake County: what price progress? Indeed, the debate even challenges the definition of progress.

A day-long meeting in Wadsworth sponsored by the Div. of Transportation to receive public input on the controversial project served more to inflame emotions than bring out merit on the project designed to provide an east-west link from north-central Lake County to Rte. 41 at an estimated $6 million cost. The theme of the meeting, balancing transportation with nature, was smothered in a barrage of criticism.

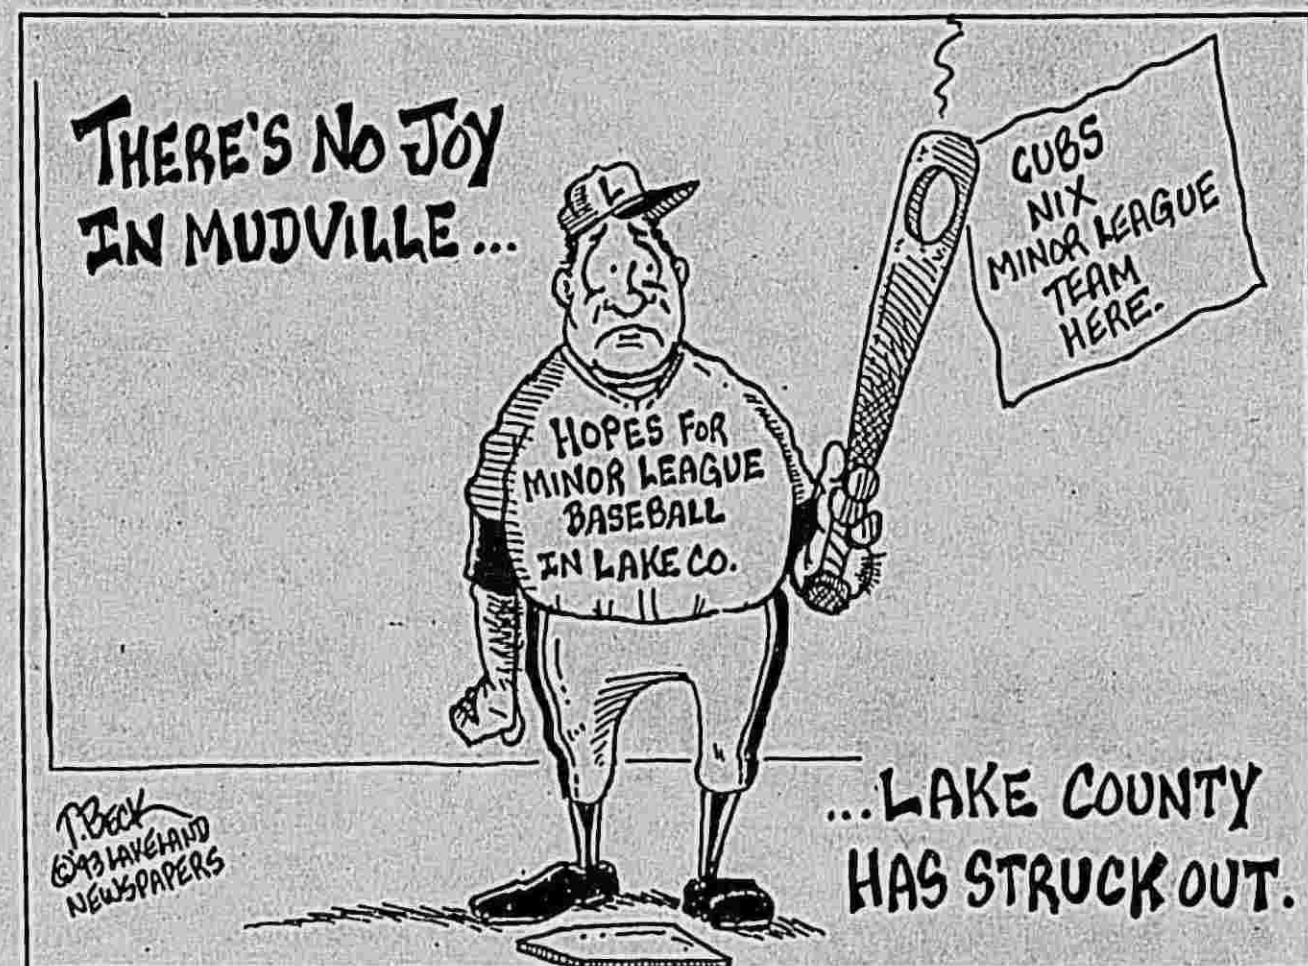

What is confounding the politicians and planners is the 450 acre Des Plaines River

Wetlands Demonstration Project, a $15 million endeavor jointly sponsored by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. and the Openlands Project headquartered in Chicago. The irony of the county threatening a high profile environmental project it sponsors with a county highway project hasn't escaped the notice of critics.

There has been little or no substantive support for the Yorkhouse extension on the basis of need. Last week Commonwealth Edison shot down in indignant terms the long-held notion that the extension would be a vital escape link in the event of a nuclear disaster at the nearby Zion power generating plant. Residents of the semi-rural area feel more traffic will be a further intrusion on their quiet lifestyle. Officials of the Village of Wadsworth are opposed to the extension.

Technically, construction funds for Yorkhouse extension have not been appropriated. The County Board, however, took a big step in August by earmarking $570,000 for a study on design options. Normally, at this stage county highway construction projects are a done deal.

After the ComEd objection, Chairman Depke is holding to the position that the road extension is vital to serve the future needs of a growing population. Depke has the power to keep Yorkhouse Rd. on the drawing boards or stop it dead in its tracks. At this point, the future of Yorkhouse Rd. comes back to the nagging question: what price progress?

Cub power, no stadium sink pro team

By BILL SCHROEDER

The unlikely combination of the power of the press and fiscal prudence sunk the intriguing proposal to bring minor league baseball to Lake County. As the tv commentators say, "it was a quality at bat." Some loud fouls and some mighty whiffs. In the end, good pitching topped good hitting.

The power of the press was wielded by the Chicago Tribune Co., owner of the Chicago Cubs, whose managers obviously recognize a threat to their self interest even when it's posed by a comfy 3,000 seat stadium compared to sold-out Wrigley Field. So the Cubs dropped a black ball on moving a minor league franchise into their "don't touch" zone.

The fiscal prudence was demonstrated by County Board Chairman Robert Depke who ruled from the start that the county would not get into the stadium building business. From this point alone, professional baseball never had a chance in Lake County because minor league franchise operators are looking for government-owned ball parks these days.

Not to shed tears, fans. Look at it this way. You still can get your fill of minor league baseball. Instead of heading over to Grand Ave. in Gurnee, the spot coveted for a county stadium, just head south to Clark and Addison where performances on the field are apt to be on the minor side.

THE AFTERMATH—Both sides are putting on the best possible face in the wake of settlement of the North Chicago School strike. School Board President Theodore Hudson is not gloating. Hudson said the board did what it had to do to keep the district afloat. Bob Shaevel of the Illinois Federation of Teachers, the business agent, said teachers got a fair agreement, that the integrity of their contract was maintained. That isn't what Shaevel said when board members decided several weeks ago to reopen with substitute teachers and faculty members willing to cross picket lines. But that's what Shaevel is saying now.

It may be pointless to argue who won in Lake County's longest school strike ever. The fact remains that contract talks were stalemated until the board decided to reopen school before Dec. 10, the deadline for maintaining existing state aid.

Teachers and administrators jointly will work out a schedule to make up lost time. Most likely a combination of vacation days, Saturdays and some summer school will be necessary. Out of the chaos of the North Chicago school strike will be an opportunity to see how summer school works. That will be a benefit no one anticipated.

Letter to the Editor

Can do without 'benefits'

Editor:

In the handout received at the open house for the study of the Yorkhouse Road extension there were some very interesting statements. In it was a section labeled "Yorkhouse Road Benefits." Apparently the five items listed below are just some of the benefits we have to look forward to.

Maintains the rural two lane road system: How can the Lake County Transportation Department possibly think that running Yorkhouse Road through to Highway 41 possibly maintains a "rural" two lane road system? How long do you really think it will be before it becomes a major four lane highway through to the tollway?

Safe and enhanced pedestrian and bicycle access to the Forest Preserve and Wetlands Research Project: Safe and enhanced? Get real, I've lived in this area for a long time and have witnessed many people out walking, fisherman going over to enjoy some quiet time at the "ole fishin' hole" and children taking bike rides. It may be amazing to the transportation department, but not one of them appeared to be in any danger, so what's with the safe and enhanced? The only thing I can see happening is that by putting this road through it will eliminate the quiet time some folks have been enjoying while fishing, hiking, etc. not to mention the danger that will be brought about by an increased traffic flow.

Increased public awareness of the Forest Preserve and Wetlands Research Project: Do we really need a road cutting right through the middle of all of this to show the public that it's there? Give us a break, do the powers that be think that the public doesn't have a brain or eyes? Aren't members of the public already using these facilities?

Provides for the integration of future construction by the Forest Preserve and Wetlands Research Project: I doubt that the only way the Forest Preserve will be able to continue with future construction (Continued on next page)

Dist. Perot team formed; Smith eyes debate attack

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Just because Ross Perot got his rather sizable ears pinned back in the NAFTA debate with Vice President Gore doesn't mean that his United We Stand America movement is drifting away.

UWSA is organized in the 8th Congressional Dist. (west Lake County and northwest Cook County) and officers are getting ready for a membership drive, according to Don Torgersen, district coordinator, who maintains homes in Palatine and Petite Lake.

Torgersen was elected at a meeting at Wauconda High School. Elected deputy coordinator in the 8th Dist. was Dick Davis of Mundelein. Rick Skiba of Palatine was named treasurer. Serving as delegates to a state UWSA gathering in Springfield Dec. 11 and 12 will be Philip DeBoer, Arlington Heights, and Robert Mitchell, Mt. Prospect, who once served as a Republican delegate from Michigan.

Other officers elected included Worthley Burbank, Wauconda Township coordinator. Named at the organization meeting to serve as election judges were Art Hill, Volo; Naomi

Party Lines

Mitchell and Henry Krug, Ingleside, and Marilyn Majewski, Barrington.

Torgersen, an author, independent producer, and publisher, said the 8th Dist. Perot team is tackling a full menu of issues and will be conducting open forums for Congressional candidates and other elected officials.

Marathon debates—Sheila Smith, the liberal Palatine businesswoman who failed to dislodge conservative U.S. Rep. Phil Crane (R-Wauconda) two years ago, plans on talking her away into election as lieutenant governor with a series of debates leading up to the primary next spring.

Smith wants to hold as many as eight (count'em) debates with State Sen. Penny Severns of Decatur, the other announced Democrat. Smith paired with Atty. Gen. Roland Burris, one of four Democrats running for governor. Severns, teamed up with Cook County Board President Richard Phelan, has indicated interest in Smith's debate plan. Looks like plenty of political yak will be generated in the coming weeks.

Crowded field—Did some foot dragging by County Board Rep. Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth) invite a larger field of candidates in his north county district? Could be. Newport Supervisor Mildred "Millie" Corder jumped in on the Republican side and the Democrats also will enter two candidates, Michael Hewitt of Waukegan and Sam Payne of Zion, a former board members. Payne's previous duty was notable mostly for offering opening prayers at county meetings. These entries make the district the most crowded of seven districts up for election in 1994.

Experienced—Returned to the Lake County Board of Review a few weeks ago, Ken Rozhon has plenty of experience to put into the job of dealing with real estate valuation complaints. He instructs in real estate appraising and is certified in all 50 states. The Island Lake resident served on the McHenry County Planning and Zoning Commission from 1982 to 84 and on his hometown's Planning and Zoning commission in 1990. Rozhon has been Island Lake liquor commissioner since 1991.

Rozhon

Study financing—State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald (R-Palatine) got out of the blocks in a hurry in his quest to unseat incumbent Congressman Phil Crane (R-Wauconda). Political observers, however, are more interested in where Fitzgerald's financing is coming from rather than whether he'll burn himself out with a furious early burst.

Political insiders aren't buying the line that wealthy attorney Fitzgerald is self-financed. "No way," the naysayers respond. Fitzgerald put out a glitzy glossy brochure to achieve early name recognition. The boyish looking legislator (33) has flooded the countryside with roadside placards. Signs and brochures don't come cheap.

Letter

is if this road project goes through.

Opportunities for nature education: What a joke! Maybe this will allow nature researchers to educate all of us in the way exhaust from cars and trucks and traffic jams will help to destroy a wetlands project; not to mention the vegetation and wildlife.

Thank you oh great leaders and spenders of taxpayers dollars for clearing all of this up for us and for pointing out the wonderful benefits we have to look forward to.

Doctor looks for gentler breast cancer treatment

Dr. Steven G. Ayer, a general practitioner at Antioch's Primary Care has just received $10,000 from the Medical Renaissance Foundation for animal studies at Georgetown University Medical Center. The focus of the study is a breast cancer treatment called Insulin Potentiarity Therapy (IPT).

This treatment uses insulin to increase the potency of cancer fighting drugs allowing doctors to administer lower, safer doses. Even more importantly, because of the overall effectiveness of the anti-cancer drug potentiation with IPT, it is hoped that breast cancer can be treated without any surgical mutilation of the breast or radiation.

The animal study will use athymic nude mice. These genetically altered mice have been bred to have no immune system. The cancer cells will be injected into the fat pads of the mice and then they will be given the IPT treatments.

The technique was pioneered by the late Dr. Donato Perez Garcia Senior in Mexico City. According to Ayer, Dr. Perez was persecuted for his early work.

At this time, there have been nine documented cases of cancer recovery with various types of cancer in Mexico. In one case, a 53 year-old woman with a 6 cm mass in her right breast was completely resolved using 12 weekly IPT treatments. After four years, there are still no signs of recurrence.

If the animal studies are successful, the next step, taking the conventional path through the FDA, would be a study using women with cancer in which standard appropriate therapy has failed. If it can be shown that IPT has a tumor effect, then a five year study will begin using a control group. However, Ayer hopes that access to this treatment will be available sooner.

According to Ayer, women as a group need to address the National Institute of Health in what he calls "informed intelligent advocacy."

Ayer is the advocate for this treatment in the United States. He has published materials on IPT and has lectured in the U.S. and abroad. After 18 years, he is still working on getting the word out.

"Breast cancer is the most tragic form of cancer in this society," Ayer said in a letter to Lee Davis, Special Advisor to the Asst. Secretary of Health. "The opportunity of curing breast cancer medically provides us with hope for progress of incalculable dimensions - for our society, and for the world at large."

Ayer cautions that IPT is not a cure for cancer. Instead, it is a non-invasive medical treatment for breast cancer using both a natural and drug therapy.

He has been invited to Washington to join the Secretary's Conference to Establish a National Action Plan for Breast Cancer on Dec. 14 and 15. According to Ayer, his work in the field of cancer has taken him far and wide.

Rte. 173 hearings slated

Two public hearings will be held on the proposed improvement of Illinois Rte. 173, running east and west through Northern Lake and McHenry Counties.

The proposal involves recommended improvements as part of the long-range Strategic Regional Arterial (SRA) system, an element of "Operation GreenLight."

The hearings are scheduled from 3 to 8 p.m. Monday, Dec. 13 in the village hall, 5600 Hunter Dr., Richmond, and the same five hours Tuesday, Dec. 14, in the Community High School, 1133 Main St., Antioch.

The twin-purpose of the hearing is to present the recommended improvements and to receive the viewpoints of the public.

A slide presentation will be shown every half-hour, beginning at 3 p.m. with the last one at 7:30 p.m.

Exhibits will be on display with department personnel on hand to discuss the project and answer questions.

"Operation GreenLight" is the comprehensive, coordinated plan for Northeastern Illinois designed specifically to attract gridlock, bottlenecks, traffic jams and other urban congestion problems.

Late payers

My mother is a 56 year old divorced woman who works full time while trying to complete a college degree and maintain financial stability. She purchases a small apartment building as an investment, however she is often behind because the tenants do not pay the rent on time. She has already had to evict one. The financial and emotional stress is becoming enormous. Can anyone suggest creative ways to encourage tenants to pay the rent on time? Help.

Double dilemma

I have a set of identical twins nearly two years of age. One twin is constantly abusing the other. We cannot separate them since they insist on playing together. Does anyone have any helpful suggestions?

Bovine hormones

I am from Antioch. The person who is concerned about milk should get their facts straight. Bovine hormones have no effect on humans. They are degraded in the stomach and could never get into a persons body.

Sounds like a bigot

The person who said that the Buddhists should go back to China sounds like a bigot. Maybe he should go back to Europe. The Buddhists showed more love and respect than that bigot did.

Just forget it

When will the Round Lake school end lthe litigation against Mr. Erickson? It has already cost too much money. Just end it. And you guys want a referendum? Forget it.

Against the bar

I am a fire person from another community and I resent the statement "We do a better job drunk than other communities do sober." What intelligence! Any fire personnel from surrounding communities that condone this bar either don't care about legal or moral issues or are frequent guests at residents expense.

Big sale

I am really getting fed up. This country is for sale. From the very top to the very bottom. From the lowest hamburger to the highest legislation. Everything is for sale. Everything has a price in this capitalist society. We are all getting bought and sold. They call it compromise legislation, I call it bribes.

Not so nice

To all you real fur wearers out there. Maybe someday you will be mistaken for a baby seal and are beat to death with a baseball bat the way the seals are. Have a nice day. They got fancy names, but we all know that everybody is getting bought. I am not exactly happy about it. What can we do? Nothing. So let's get our price tags out.

Worst behavior

We just had National Education Week. I sat in on several upper grade classes in Grass Lake School. I think every parent should take an hour or so to do this to see the behavior that is going on. No wonder they are not learning.

Do something nice

"Find it yourself" and "You must be kidding," adults do not owe you anything. Try some volunteer work instead of complaining. There are hundreds of charities and organizations that need help. Wake up and smell the roses. Smoking marijuana and taking drugs is not fun. You will end up in the morgue.

Quick service

We want to thank Commonwealth Edison and Lake Zurich officials that helped us to get our power back on. A truck knocked down a power line on Route 22. The response time was fabulous. Our Friday night rush hour was fine because of the quick response. To the guys who worked on it from Com Ed, come in for a few free pizzas.

Find another cause

First of all, I love animals and do not believe they should be tortured. However, animals do not have rights. Human beings have rights. Animals were placed on this earth to serve man and if that service is a food source, medical research, clothing, or as a pet, then that is what they are here for. To all of you animal rights whacko's - get a real cause.

Weapons search II

I heard the Libertyville School board is going to vote on whether not to put up metal detectors. Of course, only coaches will be required to pass through them, not students.

Enough is enough

I am a parent in Round Lake. I had a conference with my son's teacher who was wearing a button that said "Enough is enough." After much prodding, I finally got her to tell me what that meant. It seems that our school board, in their infinite wisdom, are doing some things to their employees that is just not right. Could Round Lake be the next North Chicago?

Who are you kidding?

Who does the Grayslake Times and Mary Foley think they are kidding? The first sentence of the Dec. 2 article about the library reads, "Onlookers cheered." Attending the meeting, I heard no cheers. Do you report things on hearsay? Come on Mary Foley, attend meetings.

Editorial note: Dear reader, the information you refer to was provided by a very reliable source, the library board president and confirmed by yet another source.

Expensive greens

This is to the employees of a Round Lake restaurant. It is a shame you are only paid minimum wage and feel that you need to treat your customers like crap. But, at least give customers what they paid for. I paid $11 for lettuce!

Give and you'll get some

You talk about respect for older people, but you folks on Channel 21 do not respect anyone else but the people in your own group. Give respect to other people and you will get your respect.

Job well done

I want to comment on Ralph Davis, mayor of Round Lake Beach. I think he is doing a good job and has done more for this village than anybody I can remember. His family is dedicated to this too. Thanks Ralph for coming to Round Lake Beach.

Great program

I would like to applaud the Round Lake Park District. They have a wonderful program called "Terrific two's and threes." My daughter absolutely loves the program. Thank you.

Gingerbread hobby grows

For 15 years, Barbara Loeffler and her family have been building gingerbread houses. This year, they constructed quite possibly the largest home made from candy in Lake County to share with everyone.

Standing 9-feet tall and weighing approximately 500 pounds, the home sits in the foyer of Pizza Sam's, 495 W. Liberty St., Wauconda, and is a joint venture with restaurant owner Mike McIntyre.

by SPENCER SCHEIN

Loeffler, a Tower Lakes resident, first gave McIntyre a miniature gingerbread home as a present two years ago when he asked her to build a large one for the restaurant. The home, which stood 5-feet tall, is now in the possession of a furniture company in Volo.

It took Loeffler almost 100 hours to outfit the home with all kinds of candies and goodies onto a pre-built plywood frame built by Frank Haney Construction in Wauconda. With help from her two sons, 18-year-old Jason and 20-year-old Brian, she was able to complete the home in one week.

Among the mountains of ingredients, all donated by McIntyre, were 10 gallons of egg whites, 147 pounds of powdered sugar, 36 pounds of graham crackers, 25 pounds of shredded wheat, 8 pounds of marshmallows and approximately 41 pounds of assorted cookies and candies, including 7 pounds of candy canes.

The graham crackers were used to form the house walls, with marshmallows used to make the window and door frames. Little gingerbread people surround the house and sit atop the massive roof, with candy teddy bears sitting watching from the piqued roof.

McIntyre said he has received many compliments from everyone and is impressed that everyone leaves it alone and does not try to touch it or try to break off pieces.

While Loeffler was talking, two young girls admired the house's beauty before leaving, putting a smile on her face.

Loeffler started making small gingerbread homes with her family 15 years ago as a fun family Christmas activity and starting inviting neighborhood children into her kitchen five years ago to help them make their own.

Over the years she has constructed small homes made of chocolate and miniature homes used as party favors, but thinks they appeal to everyone.

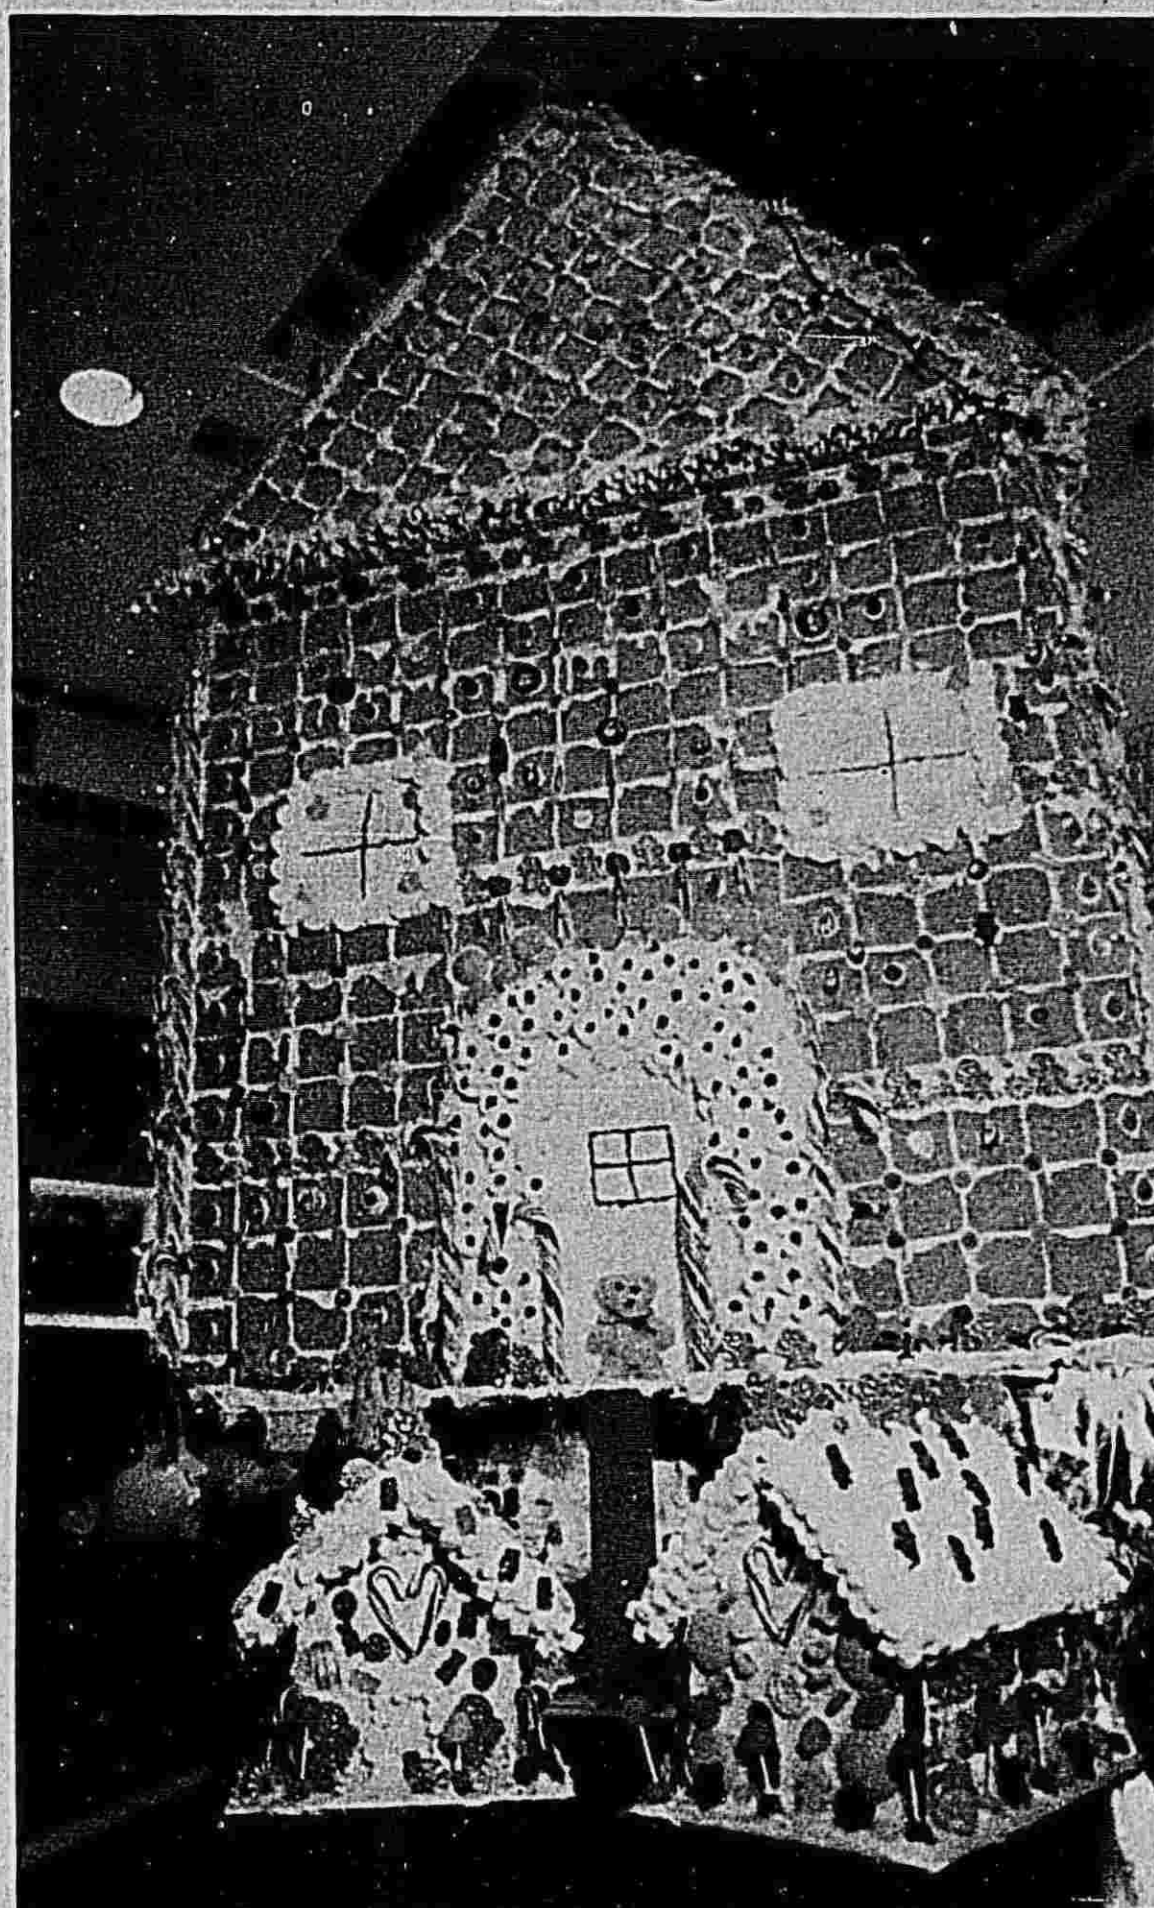

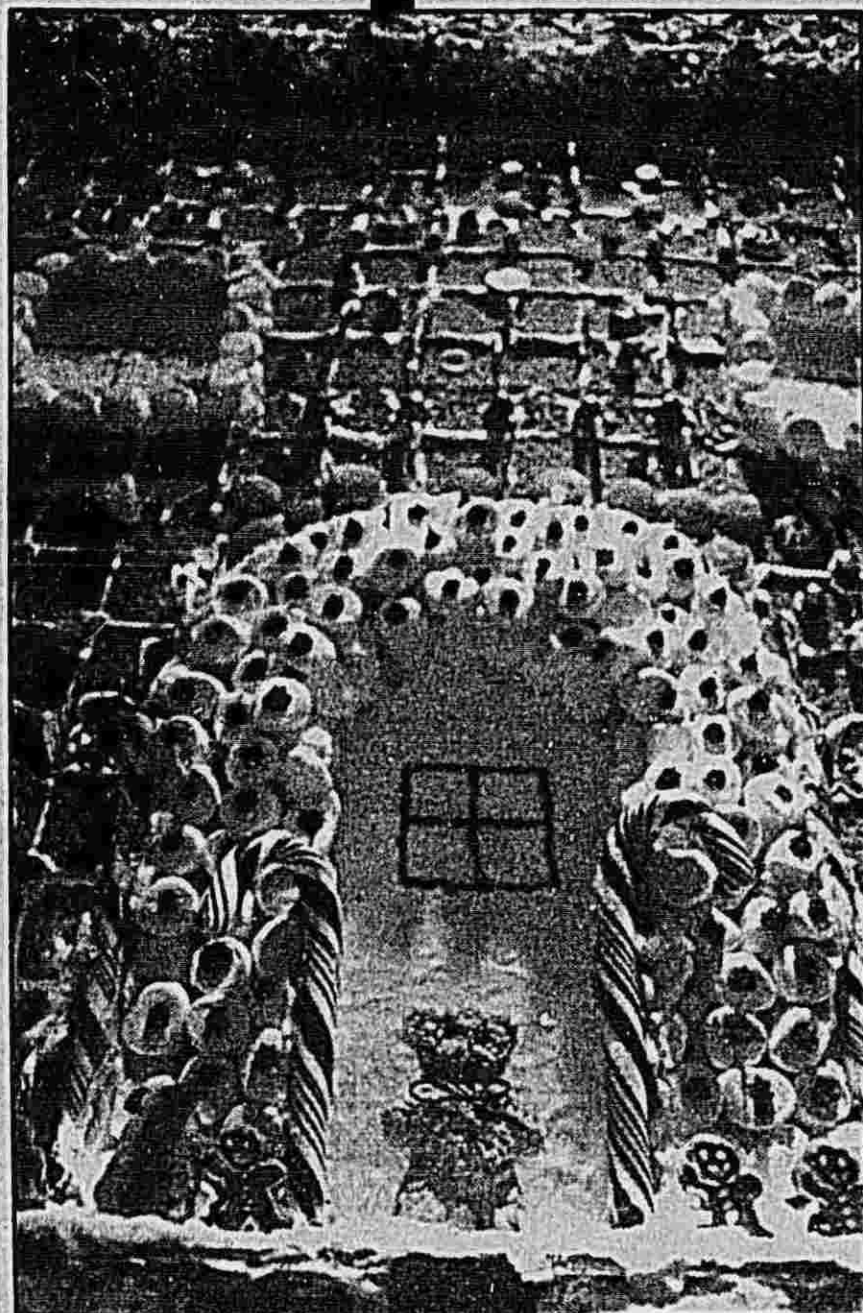

"I think all ages enjoy gingerbread houses," she said. "I think because they bring so much pleasure."

She plans to continue making the homes because she really enjoys making them.

"Each one is unique. There are not two that ever come out the same."

The home will be on display through New Year's Day.

Five-year-old Tricia Matz of Wauconda admires the 9-foot tall gingerbread house made by Barbara Loeffler. The two smaller gingerbread homes in the foreground were built by employees of Pizza Sam's and will be auctioned off to the highest bidder, all to benefit the Brian Christiansen Fund.—Photos by Gene Gabry

Candy house sales benefit customer hurt in accident

In the holiday spirit of giving, Mike McIntyre and his Pizza Sams crew are continuing to raise money for an injured customer who remains in a coma.

Barbara Loeffler helped restaurant employees make about a dozen individual gingerbread houses one evening, and two employees decided to donate theirs to be auctioned off to the highest bidder, all to benefit the Brian Christiansen Fund.

Christiansen, a resident of Wauconda, was involved in a traffic accident in August and has remained hospitalized ever since. McIntyre held several fund-raisers during the summer, as did other area merchants.

McIntyre said other homes may be auctioned off as well, with several others slated to be raffled off. Those wanting more information should either come into the restaurant or call 526-0060.

A Christmas Tree named in honor of Christiansen stands alongside the gingerbread house in the store, waiting to be adorned with ornaments, which McIntyre said can be purchased for $5 apiece, with all funds raised going to Christiansen's family for Christmas.

A Visit to Hawaii Must Include Pearl Harbor

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

December 7, 1941 is a date forever etched in the minds of most Americans. A battle began which left 3,581 Americans dead or wounded and sent six of our country's mightiest ships to the bottom of Pearl Harbor.

One of those ships, the USS Arizona, became the final resting place for 1,100 of her crew.

A memorial has been built across the Arizona to honor those still entombed in the sunken hull below. That shrine will be visited by thousands of Americans, including many survivors of the battle marking the U.S. entry into World War II.

If you are planning a trip to Hawaii, you too may wish to visit the Arizona Memorial. You will find many tours offering such a visit. However, the only boat allowed to dock at the memorial is operated by the Navy. That shuttle, as well as entrance to the memorial and the visitor center, is free.

If you have rented a car, take Rte. 99 to the entrance to Pearl Harbor along Rte. 99 about a mile south of Aloha Stadium. The parking area for the Arizona Memorial boat shuttle is well marked.

You can also take "The Bus" (literally the name of Hawaii's transit system) nos. 50, 51 and 52 from the Ala Moana Shopping Center to within walking distance of the entrance. A more convenient alternative for getting to the shuttle dock is the Arizona Memorial Shuttle Bus, a private operation which will pick you up at your hotel and take you to the dock for $2.50 one way. Reservations are needed. Call them in Honolulu at 926-4747. No reservation is required for the return trip. Just get your ticket from Gloria, the lady under the green umbrella in the parking lot.

The memorial is open daily, except Monday, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., though I would suggest getting there no later than 9:30 a.m. to avoid a long wait. The shuttle boats won't sail if the waves are too rough, so call ahead. In Honolulu call 422-0561.

'Joseph' thrives on showmanship

Critic's Choice

Andrew Lloyd Webber's production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" is appearing at the Chicago Theatre.

Led by Donny Osmond, a 30-member cast and a children's choir 50 strong, the musical story based on Genesis Chapters: 37-46 is filled with an overabundance of special effects, vivid costuming and even some decent songs.

First produced in 1967, it's a simple enough story about a favorite son exiled by his 11 envious brothers who eventually—and unknowingly—depend on him for their very survival.

In it, Osmond proves himself a touching songmeister in "Close Every Door" and later, with narrator Janet Metz, "Any Dream Will Do."

Other numbers take on a jazzy pastiche, featuring an Elvis Presley-like Pharaoh, French chanson, country and western and even calypso. When "Stone the Crows" is sung, children from the chorus amusingly maneuver likelife vultures from the sidelines.

"Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" thrives on showmanship and spectacle. Some may not find its pop humor universally appealing, but there's enough to appease most any theatergoer.—by TOM WITOM

Wheel World

'Addams' sequel outspooks original

For a change, the sequel to a mediocre movie, is not only better than the original film, but in many respects, it improves on the concept of the famous Charles Addams' cartoons from whence came the most morbid Addams Family.

In "Addams Family Values," instead of literally hanging around their gloomy mansion, this deranged tribe is out and about this time sharing their haunting ways with the public at large.

Morticia and Gomez, again played with a large dash of class and panache by Angelica Huston and Raul Julia, come up with another weird offspring named Pubert, who comes into their eerie world with shoe polish hair and wax mustache.

Pubert has a sexy Nanny played masterfully by Joan Cusack, who turns her charms on Uncle Fester, played by a rubber-faced Christopher Lloyd.

Fester's romantic liaison with this black widow, who has left a trail of dead husbands, and is now after the Addams fortune, has its moments, but it lacks the strange perverseness that has become the Addams Family logo.

Another subplot has the other two Addams kiddies, after they tire of trying to mortally wound Pubert, taking off for a Yuppie summer camp full of twisted blond counselors whose punishments for bad behavior head the list of monstrous perversions, such as locking Wednesday in a room full of G-rated taped movies.

Fiendishly funny, giddily ghastly and hysterically heinous, our favorite gathering of ghouls will have you laughing yourself to death - It could happen! We rate this latest bit of horrific black comedy four out of five stars. It carries a PG 13 rating.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Ensure a safe holiday season—beware of fire pitfalls

Christmas trees, decorative lights and cozy fireplaces all help to make the holiday cheery and festive. However, these items must be handled with care. In the whirlwind of holiday activities filled with family and friends, it's easy to overlook basic fire safety. To ensure a happy, safe holiday season, the Northern Illinois Chapter of the National Fire Sprinkler Assn. offers the following tips to help protect your family from fire.

Christmas trees

Fire resistant artificial trees offer the greatest safety. Check the packaging for details on the tree's fire resistance, lighting considerations and its proper floor placement in your home. If you prefer a live tree, make sure it's fresh. Check for:

•Color: A fresh tree is bright green.

•Needles: Fresh needles are hard to pull from branches and, when bent, do not break.

•Trunk: The trunk should be sticky with resin.

Resist the urge to place your Christmas tree next to the fireplace, or any source of heat. In preparing your tree, cut off a couple inches of trunk to expose fresh wood for better water absorption. Trim away bottom branches so you can set the tree trunk deep in the base of a sturdy tree stand. Don't forget to keep the stand filled with water while the tree is indoors. When the trees' needles begin falling off, get rid of it by disposing it with the rest of your garbage.

Holiday lights

When using outdoor or indoor lights, first check to make sure they have been tested for safety and bear the "UL" (Underwriters' Laboratories) label. Before trimming the tree or house, check for damage such as exposed wires, loose prongs, and cracked or broken sockets. It's always a good idea to lay out the lights on a table, plug them in and let them burn for 10 to 15 minutes to check for smoking or melting. Avoid overloading extension cords or light strings—these should be no more than three sets of lights on an extension cord.

Candles

Absolutely never use candles as decorations on a Christmas tree. If you are going to use candles in your holiday detailing, do it the safe way. Keep them in nonflammable holders, placed where they cannot be knocked down or blown away, and where children can not get a hold of them.

Fire and Fireplaces

Fireplaces can be warm and cozy on a cold winter night, but exercise caution when making a fire. Before lighting, remove all greens, boughs, Christmas stockings, papers and other decorations from the fireplace area. Be sure the flue is open, and only start fires with kindling and wood matches—don't use wrapping or boughs. Also, don't use the fireplace as an incinerator for burning holiday waste. Wrapping paper, ribbons and packaging can create a "flash fire," and produce toxic fumes in a poorly ventilated fireplace.

Smoking

The holidays are a time of office parties and family gatherings. Excessive consumption of alcohol by guests combined with cigarette, cigar or pipe smoking can turn these gatherings into tragedy. Check furniture, carpeting and waste baskets for smoldering butts or ashes, during and after a holiday get together.

And before a party, make sure you have plenty of big ashtrays—big enough to handle cigarettes and heavy enough not to tip over.

Portable heating sources

Portable, space or central heating systems account for the second largest number of residential fires behind cigarette, cigar and pipe smoking. Any kind of heating equipment—portable, floor register or central—should have sufficient free space, void of anything that could catch fire, especially your Christmas tree.

Phone calling cards on thieves' lists

LAKE COUNTY—AT&T is warning consumers that calling-card-number thieves love the holiday season, too. As shoppers and travelers use their long-distance calling cards in malls and transportation hubs, they should be aware that their calling-card numbers are at the top of some criminals' wish lists. Consumers should protect their calling cards as they would protect credit cards or cash.

Minee Subee offers state of the art education, care

by AUDREY DRISCOLL
Lakeland Newspapers

It may sound like a cliché to describe Lincolnshire's Minee Subee day-care center as state of the art. However, a short stroll through the facility reveals such meticulous attention to detail and old-fashioned good sense that the center is elevated to a new level.

The facility could only be designed by a family with 20 years of experience in the field. Norman and Judith Katz and their daughter Michele Katz-Berger lent their energies and talent to designing a facility that allows them to care for children in an environment that is structured and comfortable at the same time.

Furniture, play equipment and curriculum are uniquely designed to accommodate different age groups. The center accepts children from six weeks to 12 years of age.

When Judith and Norman Katz started in the child care field, the role of the day-care center was to act merely as a babysitter. Now such centers act more as mini-schools, stimulating the imagination and preparing students for school.

"We have full educational programs here," Katz-Berger said. Katz-Berger has been the director of the center since it opened in August. "By the time they start school, our kindergartners are usually on par or often times more advanced than other children."

At the center, children usually have a longer day and a higher teacher to student ratio than they will encounter when they get to the public schools. The curriculum is thoroughly examined and reassessed periodically by Katz-Berger. The entire teaching staff hold four-year degrees, and most major in early childhood development, child psychology or elementary education.

Despite the structured nature of the curriculum, the center appears to have a cozier feeling than other day-care institutes. Each room is designed differently to appeal to a particular age group. In the toddler room the windows extend to approximately a foot off the ground so children can view the park-like setting surrounding Minee Subee.

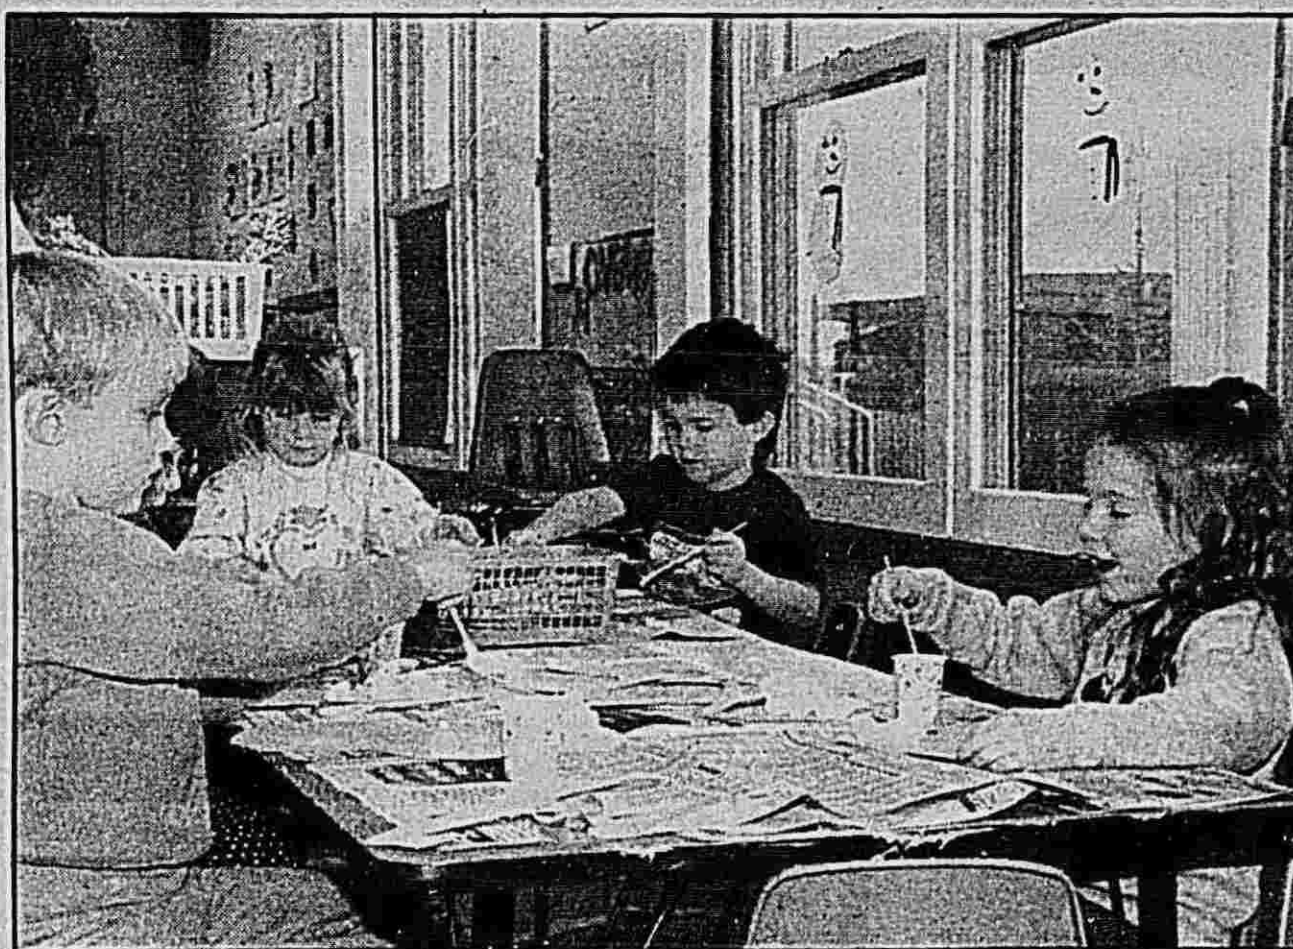

Staff designed and built most of the furniture used in the facility. Cabinets and desks, plus sinks and even toilets have been placed to accommodate the size of the children who use them.

Every safety precaution has been taken. Furniture has round edges, tip resistant bottoms and is plastic padded to prevent injury to children who might fall.

Special diaper changing tables were designed to protect the children from falling and at the same time provide the staff attendant with a full view of the room.

Walls, especially in the rooms designed for 2- and 4-year-olds, are irregular to provide nooks and crannies where children can be by themselves without leaving the room.

The toddler rooms open onto an outdoor play lot specifically designed for younger children, while the other rooms open onto a larger 14,000-square-foot outside play area. The ground surrounding the play equipment is packed with pulverized rubber to prevent injury.

The architects also took precautions when designing the outside of the building by constructing the parking lot well away from the structure. A large canopy over the building entrance protects children from bad weather when their parents drive up to the entrance.

An internal security system allows the staff to carefully monitor everybody who enters the building. And the center usually has many guests during the day. Parents are encouraged to drop by any time during the day to visit their children.

For more information on the center, contact Michele Katz-Berger 634-1982.

TMA expands boundaries

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

In response to several requests for services from companies in the greater Lake county area, the Transportation Management Association board of directors has approved the expansion of its boundaries of general operation.

New perimeters for the TMA of Lake County are: Beginning on Rte. 22, Half Day Rd., and along a line extending easterly to Lake Michigan, along the Lake shore north to the Wisconsin state line, west to Rte. 83, south along Rte. 83 and then along Fairfield Rd. to the southern boundary of Rte. 22.

In accordance with this enlarged territory, the TMA has deleted the word "Central" from its name and will now operate as the TMA of Lake County.

The action was taken to expand the TMA's area in order to serve as a more inclusive forum for networking, planning and education. Additionally, this change will offer companies with multiple sites throughout Lake County a cohesive approach to ECO planning and promoting mass transit and highway improvements that affect their workplaces.

"Our primary goal is to improve mass transit and general traffic flow," said TMA executive director Willard R. Helander. "We work with government agencies at all levels. We have even sought federal moneys to do a pilot program for alternative transportation."

"We serve a lot of private employers and citizens," she said. "The calls we have received show a real market. With more municipalities included in the network we will have more leverage."

Finishing touches

Landscape workers put the finishing touches on the Marcus Theatre site. The cinema will have 10 screens with an expansion to 14 possible. Marcus Theatre's Gurnee Mills site is the company's first outside of Wisconsin.

Gurnee's Grand Tri-State is Hot

A successful 1993 will increase the amount of industrial space by 48 percent and drop the vacancy rate from 34 to 7 percent by early 1994 in Gurnee's Grand Tri-State Business Park. Over 184,000 square feet will be constructed and 93,000 square feet absorbed after all is said and done.

The year's highlights are build-to-suit projects for NYPRO, Inc. and Squire-Cogswell Company.

NYPRO's building is an 82,000 square foot state-of-the-art custom injection molding facility with tollway frontage. NYPRO used the tollway exposure to its fullest advantage and designed the building to showcase their tool-making operations. Over 35,000,000 highway passengers per year will be treated to an impressive view of this international company's flagship facility. NYPRO is recognized as the largest firm of its type in North America. This is the company's eighth domestic location. They have fourteen locations worldwide.

Squire-Cogswell's building is also an 82,000 square foot light industrial facility. Founded in 1918, the company is a nationwide leader in design, manufacture, and fabrication of industrial and medical pumping systems. Squire-Cogswell is consistently recognized as one of the top woman-owned and operated companies in the Chicago area. They will share the space with their sister company, Aeros Instruments. Aeros Instruments specializes in suction therapy equipment for the healthcare industry.

Grand Tri-State Business Park is a 276-acre mixed use business campus located on the southwest corner of I-94 and Route 132, across from Six Flags Great America Theme Park and Gurnee Mills regional shopping center. The development is a joint venture between Tom Rosenquist and Lake Partners.

High technology abounds in rural business group

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

The rim of a tire off of a 1920's vehicle hangs high on a rafter, once used as a basketball hoop so the boys in the Heumann's Packard Dealership could play during lunch.

Today, a clever business duo has renovated the eighty-year old edifice, leaving behind a few old-time reminders while implementing a plethora of technological ideas in an unique multi-assortment group of stores in downtown Johnsburg.

Entrepreneur

"We're bringing a lot of high-technology to Johnsburg," said co-owner Ed Brandau.

The largest store—"Distinctive Detailing, Inc." is known as "a zero discharge facility," using a "closed loop system," and is probably the first like it in the area, according Brandau, a chemist by trade.

Besides being partners in the remodeled Huemann building with George Miller, the twosome work as environmental specialists in the west portion of the building in the form of a pollution control systems business called "Environmental Process Technologies."

This business involves designing and turn-keying various systems, industrial products and implementing services that help with a cleaner environment—an offshoot from another shop in Naperville.

The unusual and environmentally friendly system designed by Miller, an electrical and mechanical engineer, and his scientist partner, mean that "no water will ever leave this building."

Instead, the water from the detail shop, the future beauty shop, and a possible bait shop, will actually be recycled and turned into steam with an invention the two men designed. Then the water vapors can be used to steam clean engines, explained Miller.

The Distinctive Detailing shop provides a list of services and different packages that can make your car, truck or boat looking like new; and is run by Miller's children, Michael, daughter Lori Miller-Duros and her husband Leon Duros.

Miller said that his other daughter, Lisa will run the beauty shop/tanning salon when it opens called "Johnsburg's Mane Attraction."

Yet another vacant office space in the old Huemann building will probably be used for printing and layout for one of the other businesses, said the owners.

Miller, an area resident, and Brandau, who was willing to relocate to the area, said they are glad they chose the location for their new business venture. It's right on the main drag of town at 2020 W. Johnsburg Rd., and next door, sits the land where the soon-to-be built Johnsburg Public Library will be; and kitty-corner is the McHenry County Fire Protection District Station 2.

Looking up at the preserved name of the original owners carved out of stone atop the front garage door of the building, Brandau simply said, "If these people knew eighty years ago, the kind of technology we have (now), they wouldn't believe it."

Sandbagger taking work out of controlling floods

The Sandbagger Corp. filled an average of 800 sandbags an hour per machine when staffed by young children during the Mississippi River floods this past summer. Company owner Stacey Kanzler designed and built the sandbaggers after she saw the slow manual way sandbags were being filled.

by SPENCER SCHEIN
Lakeland Newspapers

When the massive Mississippi River was flooding communities along its banks this summer, one enterprising individual took advantage of the situation and formed a company to make automated sandbagger machines.

The machines can successfully fill between 700 to 800 bags an hour. Stacey Kanzler, founder of the Sandbagger Corp., in Wauconda, said the machine can do the work of 40 men working steadily without rest. She came up with the idea after driving through flood ravaged areas in Illinois

She spent the rest of her vacation designing two machines that were built upon their return home. They own a landscaping and material processing business.

Kanzler received congratulatory letters from city officials in Ste. Genevieve, Mo. and Ellis Grove, Ill. on the effectiveness of the machines.

She predicts the sandbagger will some day become a standard piece of equipment in all organizations that fight floods.

Consider current position when making investments

It's important to consider our position in life when making investment decisions.

Age is one of the factors which strongly influences investment decisions. Have you ever noticed, the older we get ized if we lost, we'd have more years ahead to rebuild—certainly, this is not to be criticized. In our free enterprise economy, we must have those who are willing to take a calculated risk in hope of growth. Without this pioneer spirit, advanced thinking could never be reality. The point is, our age bears strongly on how much risk we're willing to accept.

A strong consideration in our investment approach should be family responsibilities. A young person starting out in life with the responsibility of one or more children must consider that responsibility. Maximum necessary protection for the fewest dollars should supersede any forced savings whereby family protection is reduced.

It's wise to set funds aside for emergency use. These funds should be ones that can be easily reached without penalty or loss.

Our financial needs are always changing, and how we address them at a particular time will depend on our position in life.

Investment Trends

by Noah A. Seidenberg

Investment representative

the more conservative we become? We like to think of it as just being smarter. Is it smarter, or has our position in life changed?

As we grow older, we become aware that a serious investment error could jeopardize the savings we've worked years to accumulate. The closer we get to retirement, the fewer years we have to rebuild our reserves. Thus, we become more conservative in our investment approach. Our position is a safe one aimed at preserving what we have.

In our youth, many of us might have said, "shoot the works," because we real-

Success National Bank creates unique account

Success National Bank is introducing an innovative account service called the "Sigma Account." The account is named for the eighteenth letter of the Greek alphabet, Sigma, which is also a mathematical symbol representing "the sum." The Sigma Account plays on this meaning by offering several banking options in the convenience of one account.

"Our bank offers the most unique services of any financial institution." We call Sigma "all the account you will ever need," said Saul Binder, the bank's president.

The Sigma Account is a combination mortgage/home equity loan at a quarter point below the prime rate for a period of ten years with a maximum interest rate of ten percent. This line of credit is combined with both a checking account and a credit card. The Sigma credit card will be automatically paid each month by a debit to the line of credit thereby minimizing the time involved in the customer paying their bills. Use of the credit card will entitle the holder of a Sigma account to a one percent rebate on all retail purchases made with the credit card.

The account also includes higher rates on CDs for family members living in the same household and higher rates on checking account balances and other deposit products.

Unique services provided by Success National Bank include overdraft protection at an especially attractive rate; a special interest bearing checking account for non-profit organizations; special senior citizen programs; Sunday and evening hours; and the most economical and flexible home equity lines of credit in the Greater Chicago market.

Success National Bank was formerly the First National Bank of Lincolnshire.

Pier limits won't cure damaged Chain lakes

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Army Corps of Engineers, which is completing its study of the environmental impact of boating on area lakes and rivers, admits that its jurisdiction is very limited in what it can do to modify the effects of boating on the Chain O' Lakes. The corps has prepared the Environmental Impact Study (EIS) which concludes that the number and size of boats, the boat wake effects, and boat generated

'Please consider the economic impact that the policy would cause on my community. This is our lifeline out here.'

— Ken Hamsher,
Fox Lake Mayor

turbulence has had a negative effect on the aquatic, wetland, and terrestrial habitat qualities.

Essentially, the corps can consider the environmental impacts, as well as the economic needs of the area, when determining whether or not to grant a permit relating to piers and access ways such as boat launches. The corps plan is "No net gain," which would require the removal of a pier or access ramp before a permit would be granted to build a new one. This policy will have no effect on private, single-family shoreline residences, which would continue to be allowed a single pier.

The corps admits in its summary rement of existing laws, require boating education, zone usage, limit the number of boats, limit boat features, increase bank stabilization, increase channel dredging, realign channels, plan beneficial use of dredged materials, and modify draw down procedures. Reed indicated that if the other agencies did not act upon some of the alternatives, the corps would have to consider an even more restrictive policy.

"You are the ones who live here," Colonel Reed of the Army Corps of Engineers told the audience.

A time period was allowed for public port that the "No net gain" policy alone will not restore the environmental resources of the area, but it is hoped that it will tend to curtail the environmental impacts to their present level. The plan is akin to a decision not to build any new parking spaces and on-ramps on a highway in an effort to reduce air pollution. Yet, the corps is limited, by law, to what it can do to reduce the problems.

According to corps representatives at the public meeting in Fox Lake, the actions of other agencies will be an important component in the improvement of environmental and social aspects of the Chain. The corps has come up with a number of non-corps alternatives which can be accomplished through other agencies to protect the waterway.

The alternatives include: reducing non-point source water pollution, add/change speed limits, increase enforcementary at the meeting and a number of residents had comments and questions about both the role of the Army Corps and the conclusions of the EIS report. While some residents, including Mayor Ken Hamsher of Fox Lake, were worried about the economic implications of the no net gain policy, most others focused on the problems of overcrowding.

"Please consider the economic impact that the policy would cause on my community," said Hamsher. "This is our lifeline out here. I'd rather have dirty, weedy lakes, and I have lived on one, and give people the use of the lakes."

On the other hand, many residents indicated that the no net gain policy is a good start on combating the Chain's woes but hope that other measures will be taken by the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Fox Chain O'

Lakes Waterway Management Agency.

Chris Peters, an area resident, suggested that Mayor Hamsher look to other avenues to improve the economic situation in Fox Lake. Peters suggested that the overall reduction in tourism may be linked to the fact that more people reside in the Chain year round and that maybe the "tourists" are now residents.

The draft EIS is now on file at many area libraries so that interested residents can review the document before final approval. Public comments will be accepted until Dec. 19. Mail comments to: Environmental and Social Analysis Branch, Chicago District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, 111 N. Canal Street, Chicago, IL 60606-7206. Additional information can be obtained from: Barbara Williams, chief of the Environmental and Social Branch, (312) 353-6464.

County finds it harder to find election judges

by AUDREY DRISCOLL
Lakeland Newspapers

Election judges get little notice in most elections. They also get little money, little benefits and long hours.

Though they are perhaps one of the most important safeguards against voter fraud, election judges don't excite much attention in the voting process.

"Every year it becomes more difficult to find people who are willing to volunteer their time," Mary Ellen Vanderventer, elections administrator for Lake County, said. "We are competing with every other charity for people's time."

While most people don't consider so integral a commitment to democracy as mere charity, Vanderventer said people who volunteer to become election judges do it out of a sense of civic duty and because they believe in the system not because they need the money.

The average pay for an election judge is $60 a day. The average day is 15 hours of work which means judges are paid approximately $4 an hour. Minimum wage is $4.80 an hour. The pay can be increased up to $125 if the judge agrees to enroll in certain classes or officiate at a retirement center.

'We are competing with every other charity for people's time.'
—Mary Ellen Vanderventer

"The way I feel is that they are the most important part of the process," Howard Bieze a Wauconda Township precinct committeeman said. Bieze has been vocal about the issue for some time.

"We need to do something to insure that these people get paid in accordance with the work that they do," he said.

"They can get more money working at McDonald's. That doesn't say much about how we value what they do."

Legislation has been introduced in Springfield in the past to raise the pay for judges, but nothing was ever done. It has also been suggested that judges split the day in order to cut down on hours. But this too has not met with much enthusiasm, because it is thought that such a split system would make it harder to locate tabulation errors.

Election judges are appointed by precinct committeemen in conjunction with the Lake County clerk's office. They serve two years and may cover up to five elections in that time.

Judges must be citizens of the United States, registered voters and they must represent either the Republican or Democratic party.

The clerk's office needs to fill 1,910 positions in 382 precincts for every election. Vanderventer said the office usually has a core of 2,200 people but usually not all can make it and they need to fill in where they can.

Each precinct should be staffed with five judges but the clerk's office can get by with a minimum of three, Vanderventer said.

Anyone who wishes to volunteer to be an election judge can contact the Lake County election judge department at 630-5928 and ask for Kris Payne.

Fast action by forest preserve saves taxpayers $1.2 million

Lake County Forest Preserve officials saved nearly $1.2 million through the sale of $30 million in general obligation bonds.

Due to record low interest rates, the district sold the bonds at an average interest rate of 5.2 percent, lower than the 5.6 percent rate anticipated during the referendum campaign. The average annual tax for a home with a market value of $150,000 is now only $6.25, a 15 cent decrease from the $6.40 average rate estimated during the referendum campaign. This will save Lake County taxpayers nearly $1.2 million in the next 20 years, over $62,000 annually.

Action taken by the Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners at their November meeting gave authority to Forest Preserve President Colin L. McRae, Treasurer Mark Beaubien, Jr., and Finance and Administration Committee Chair Jim LaBelle to move quickly to take advantage of low interest rates. On Nov. 30, the three officials secured negotiations that will lead to the savings.

During the November election, 61 percent of Lake County voters approved the $30 million funding program for preserving natural areas, wildlife habitats, trail and greenway corridors, and creating new opportunities for recreation and education in their forest preserves. Of the total, $20 million is earmarked for acquisition of vanishing natural lands. The remaining $10 million will fund a list of high priority improvement and restoration projects focusing on public access areas and recreational, educational and cultural facilities.

Towering amphibious backhoe is back in town

Back in town again is the state-owned amphibious backhoe mechanical dredging device.

Karen Kabbes, executive director of the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Agency, announced that the dredge is back in town after it had been on the Fox River since July.

The amphibious backhoe with a reach of 40 feet from the extended boom arm, was attached with a "rake" to scrape and gather debris on the bottom of Algonquin area water to Holiday Hills near Burton's Bridge in McHenry from the summer until just after Thanksgiving, according to Kabbes.

The director said that recovered were parts of an old boat as well as an ice shack, among other things.

The dredge will be taking time off during the winter for repairs and maintenance work, while agency staff prepares permits and paperwork for next summer's dredging, and crews maintain and repair all of the 500 buoys the agency owns.

"All of this is being done so the entire operation is ready to go back in the water in March including the buoys," Kabbes explained.

Chairman of the waterway agency Dr. William C. Dam said that at the last informational U.S. Army Corps of Engineers meeting held at Grant Community High School, Lt. Col David Reed supported the agency staying open "at least four times," reported Dam.

In March, a referendum placed on ballot will ask the question whether or not people are agreeable to keeping the agency operational.

Prevention Services/In Touch gives tags to local tree sellers

As part of a nationwide effort to keep drunk drivers off the streets this holiday season, Prevention Services/InTouch staff are distributing tree tags to local Christmas tree growers and sellers. Each tag displays the message "Drive Smart/Drive Sober... Help keep the holidays joyous."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) approximately 17,700 persons died in alcohol-related highway crashes last year, 671 of those were from Illinois. In an effort to reduce the number of crashes, injuries and fatalities, several national organizations including NHTSA and M.A.D.D. (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers) have launched an effort to keep the roadways safe during the holiday season. Here in Lake County Prevention Services/InTouch leads this effort by giving an important message in an unusual way.

According to Ron Jakubison, prevention specialists with Prevention Services/InTouch, these tree tags are a great way to support this effort. He said "The tags give the message to drive sober and drive safe and to remember that just one drink can impair someone's driving ability." For more information or to obtain a tree tag, contact Prevention Services/InTouch at 223-6363.

Carmel presents concert

On Thursday evening, Dec. 9, at 7:30 p.m., the Carmel High School Auditorium will be filled with the sounds of the Christmas season. The beginning and advanced choirs along with the Carmelaires, Co-

Choir and Parkway Singers and the Carmel Band will present songs of the season. "One of the favorite parts of our concert is at the beginning, when all the choirs band together to sing traditional carols," said

Kent Parry. Tickets are available at the door: adults are $2.50, and students and senior citizens are $1. The choirs are directed by Mr. Kent R. Parry, and the band by Mr. John Christie.

Youth focus of race task force

Youth is the special focus of the next Lake County Race Unity Task Force gathering. A youth social is being held on Dec. 11 from 1 to 3 p.m. and is open to all.

Welcoming remarks will be made by Wadell Brooks, Paul Spies, Dr. Alan Brown and Jim Polley. Performances will be given by Teens Against Peer Pressure (TAPP), Youth of Today, and the Baha'i Youth Workshop, all focusing on racial unity. The program will include poetry, skits, music and dance. The Youth Workshop has performed extensively in the Chicago area, but also in Atlanta at Georgia Tech University and the Martin Luther King Center.

Following the performances there will be a potluck luncheon. The program will be held in Wixom Theater in the South Building at old Waukegan East (Career Academy) at Washington and Jackson.

JCC sets Hanukkah program

Families are invited to join the Far North Satellite of the Northwest Suburban Jewish Community Center (JCC) and Congregation Or Shalom on Sunday, Dec. 12, from 4 to 6 p.m. when they hold a Hanukkah Celebration and Dinner. The event will be held at Congregation Or Shalom, 21 Hawthorn Park, Vernon Hills.

The event will include dining on a Hanukkah deli dinner, singing, storytelling, and Hanukkah candlelighting.

Registration for this program is requested by Monday, Dec. 6. The price is $7 per adult and $4 per child for JCC Investors and Or Shalom members. The price for non-Investors and non Or Shalom members is $8 per adult and $5 per child. Children under one are free. Children's rates apply to children 12 years and under.

For information about this Hanukkah celebration, or for reservations, call Linda Newman at 392-7411.

Anti-Cruelty Society offers low-cost identification chips

Beginning Dec. 7, adopters who take home Anti-Cruelty Society animals can opt for another low-cost benefit for their animal. For $10, the Anti-Cruelty Society will implant a permanent identification microchip in an adopted animal, thus making it easier to recover the animal in case it is ever lost.

The AVID microchip system is currently used by many veterinarians and animal shelters. A numbered microchip is implanted in the animal between the shoulder blades by injection, and the number is recorded on a national registry. The Anti-Cruelty Society, other shelters and veterinarians' offices who offer the implant services also own scanners which can read the information and locate a lost pet's owner.

The microchip itself is about the size of a grain of rice and hurts the animal no more than a vaccination. The Anti-Cruelty Society recognizes the impact that microchip implementation could have on the lost pet problem. Last fiscal year, the Society received 6,299 stray animals. Without identification tags and a collar it is nearly impossible to find an animal's owner unless the owner actively searches for his animal. The microchip option offers an efficient way to find a lost pet's owner.

The microchip injection must be given at the time of adoption of the animal. Other animals owned by the adopter must go elsewhere for microchip injection into other previously owned animals. In order to keep costs down, the Anti-Cruelty Society can offer this service only to animals adopted from the Anti-Cruelty Society beginning Dec. 7. For more information about AVID microchips for Anti-Cruelty Society adopted animals, call (312)644-8338.

Griefnotes

I want to begin dating, will my children understand?

Children of all ages need to be included in all plans made after the death of a spouse. The time will come for many widowed persons when dating is appropriate and desirable. Children's reactions may be supportive, protective, jealous, or insecure. The child may feel that bringing a new person into a relationship is a betrayal of the deceased. All family members should be encouraged and permitted to discuss feelings about the new relationship and how it affects the family. The surviving spouse can make it clear that dating is important. Assurance that the children will be cared for is shown by willingness to talk and by actions that show sensitivity to the children's needs.

JUNIPER

The Juniper is a compact, informal home with an open, spacious feeling. Designed to meet the needs of a single person, or a couple with no children, this single level plan could also be adapted to accommodate a wheelchair.

Most of the exterior is lap siding with stucco relief trim. A small porch bounded by a wooden railing adds curb appeal, as do sidelights flanking the front door. Inside, these slender windows, along with the oval window in the door, brighten the entry. A double-wide closet is around the corner to the right.

Straight ahead is the comfortable great room - a large bright room that combines the functions of living room, dining room and kitchen. Three wide windows fill most of the back wall and more light spills down from above through four rectangular skylights. A glass door on the left opens onto a small raised deck that is also accessible from the master suite.

In the great room, a hearth of brick tile transects one corner, creating a warm focal point. The large, open kitchen fills the other corner. A raised eating bar is all that separates the dining area from the kitchen.

Friends and neighbors will enjoy lingering here to chat while the owners deal with food preparations and clean-up. The dishwasher is raised to minimize bending. Counter space is ample, and a large walk-in pantry augments the available storage capacity.

Utilities are just a few steps away in a pass-through utility room complete with cabinets and a counter for folding clothes. The garage, too, has built-in cabinets and a long L-shaped workbench.

The two sleeping rooms are on opposite sides of the great room. Amenities in the master suite include a walk-in closet, twin basins, and separately enclosed tub and toilet. The guest bedroom has a set of built-in shelves.

For a study kit of the JUNIPER (333-171), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number) For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Purchased 3-inch-diameter bird nest with wire hangers (available at craft stores)
Peanut butter
Sunflower seeds and other birdseed
Butter knife
Paper plate
12 inches of 1/2-inch-wide ribbon
With the butter knife, spread peanut butter around the sides of the nest. Pour some birdseed onto the paper plate. Roll the sides of the nest on the plate so the birdseed sticks to the peanut butter. IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland

Hates the change

I have a few words to say about the stupid Christmas parade that Antioch had. Why did Claude LeMere change to 9 a.m. on a Saturday? Nobody wants to get up that early. What was wrong with the night parade? There were a heck of a lot more people there the past two years than there was this year. Someone obviously likes what he is doing so he will stay around.

Editorial note: Dear reader, the Antioch Village Board approved the change in parade time. The plan was to provide residents with an opportunity to shop in the downtown area after the parade. The night parade did not allow such an opportunity since stores were generally closed after the parade. Maybe the cold weather had a more chilling effect on parade attendance than the time.

Thank you!

I am calling about a wake I attended in Zion. When we were getting the car, my purse was accidentally left on top of the car. We did not notice it was missing until we got back from Zion. I am calling to thank the person who picked up my purse, took it to the police station completely intact. There was nothing taken out of my purse. Thank you very much and God bless you. You read so many negative things in the paper, I just want to put this in!

How rude

I can't believe what I just read. I can't believe the person responding to "Lonely" said she should "get a life." How rude. I thought about calling last week and telling her that we are a newly married couple and would love to get to know new people. I also know a new mom who is lonely and needs a new friend. If you are an older age female, please reply. We would love to get together. Have a happy holiday and at least there is someone here who cares!

Not invited

I am calling in regards to a community calendar that was recently put together in Wauconda. It says that Mark Mayo has sent out 20 invitations to community leaders. I am a community leader and I have contacted other ones who also did not receive invitations. Once again, it is the same old group getting together and they are leaving out everyone else.

Flip the switch off

This is to the 14 year old CB'er who wanted to be accepted by the Channel 21 group. Why? Why not just flip the switch off of the Chicken Band (CB) and tune into ham radio. We would be happy to talk to you. If you are interested leave your number at Lakeland Newspapers.

Yeah

Hey, lay off Lakeland Newspapers. They don't play favorites. The teachers are making accusations against BEST. They claim there were social security numbers and birthdays on a BEST handout. When I sent for it, only the salary information was on there! Now that I have BEST's address, I will be sending them a contribution.

Reprioritize

It is too bad when Fremont School allows reverse discrimination go on. They let one girl constantly pick on another because she is of another race. Get your priorities straight.

Brown supporter

I agree with the caller's endorsement of Harry Brown for undersheriff. Brown has been in law enforcement for 30 years and knows all the police personnel. He gets along well with everybody. I second that endorsement.

She disagrees

I want to comment about the coach in Libertyville. Remember, this is a man whose ego is out of control. He had no regard for the other students. His concern was only to make a big impact on his football players. Also, Bill, I disagree with your editorial last week. Politically correct it was not, although I will not cancel my subscription. I like the paper too much.

So does she

I read your paper. My goodness, Bill, that guy is sick, sick. And, you know it!

Put on tags and collars

This is for all those fools that worry about getting their cats shot. It is my understanding that any cat without a collar and tags is considered a feral cat and subject to be shot.

Some suggestions

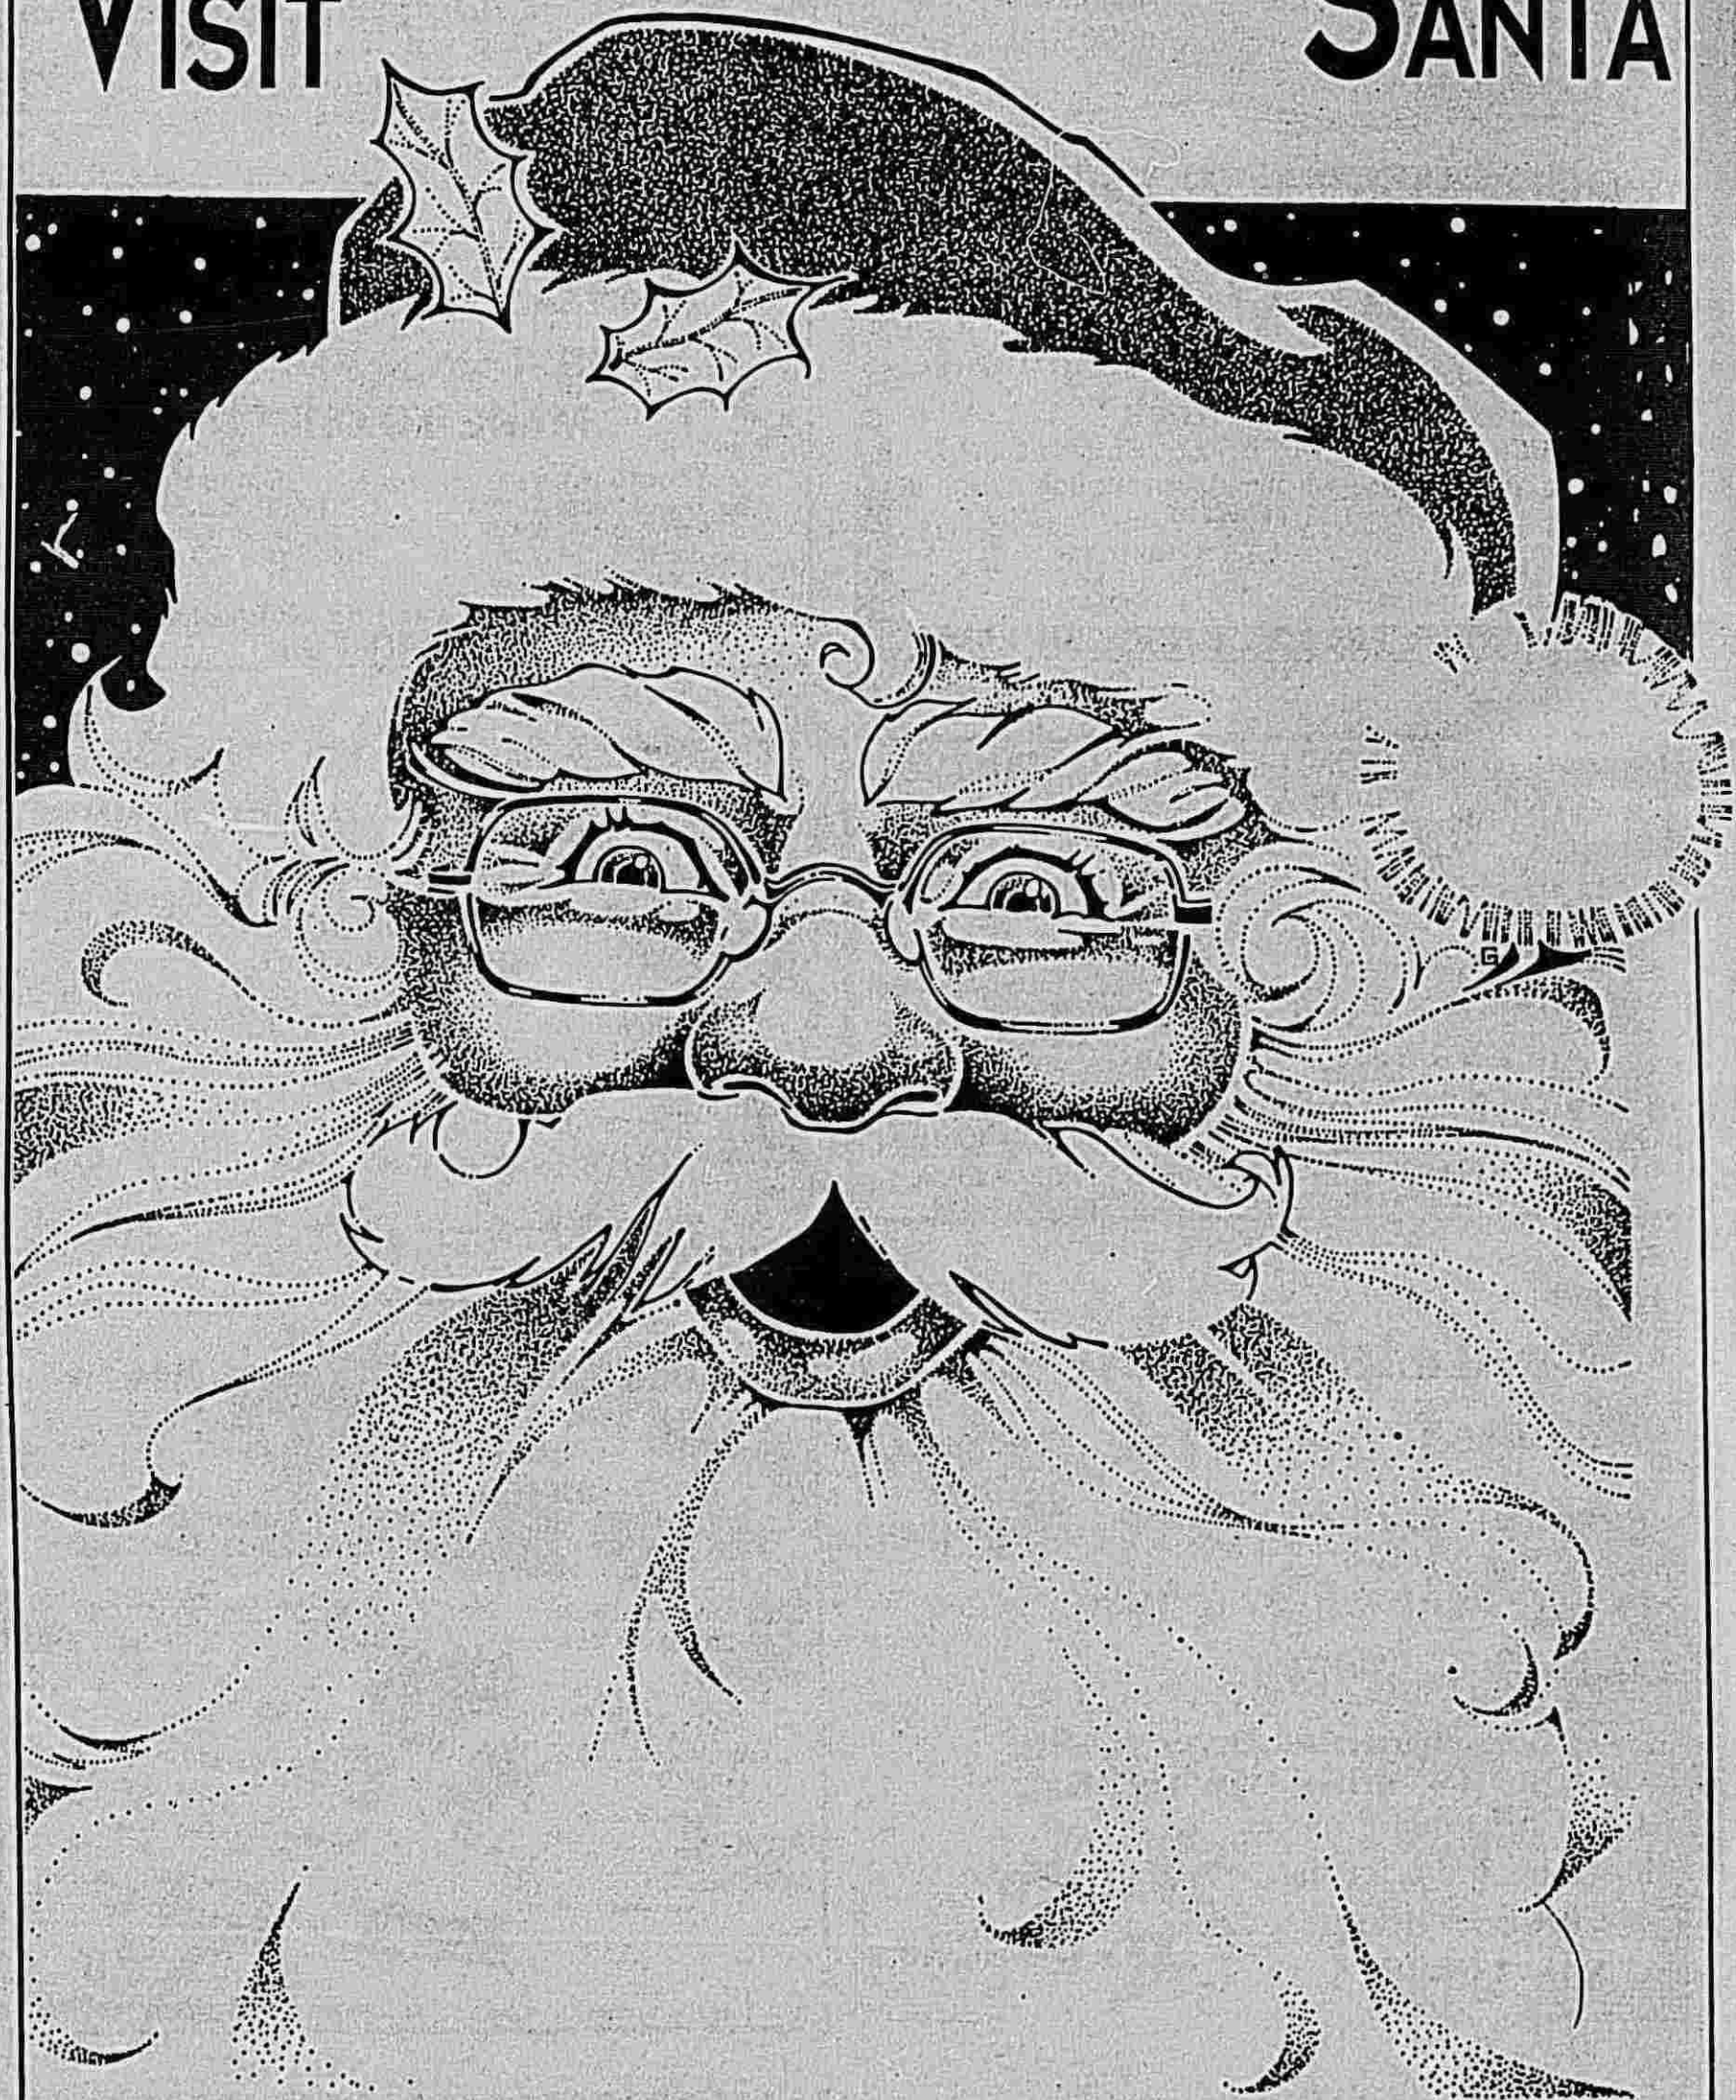

To the Grayslake teenager who was complaining there is nothing to do, I have a few suggestions. You could volunteer your services to the community and pick up trash along the roadways. You could volunteer at a home for retired people or retarded people. How about bringing some joy to other people? Why not go and visit your grandparents or a neighbor who is all alone. I think there are a lot of things you can do in the community besides complain and feel sorry for yourself.

Still wants 53

This is to "Neighborly advice." I want you to know that I live only a block away from work. I walk to work. But, we still need Route 53 because we all have business appointments, family, and other events. We are not a small community anymore.

Warren's Shelton in line for state baseball accolade

Ron Shelton looks at photos of his two sons, Derek and Craig. Shelton was nominated for Illinois Baseball Coaches Hall-of-Fame. He is expected to be inducted in February.

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Ron Shelton, Warren Township High School's long-time baseball coach, is expected to join the Illinois Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame next year.

Shelton was nominated by Jay Thompson, a coach of downstate Harrisburg. Shelton and Barrington's Kirby Smith are Chicago area nominees.

"I was very surprised," Shelton said. Shelton will take home the honor at a banquet in February. He will join Grant's Fritz Kazlauskas as a member.

The Blue Devils amassed 300 wins to 228 losses in Shelton's 20 years directing baseball in Gurnee. Warren won one regional and one district title. He was humble in discussing the award.

"I have had excellent assistant coaches who have been very helpful. This award is for them and the players who put a lot of time and effort in," Shelton said.

The Blue Devils won two North Suburban Conference titles in Shelton's era, the last in his final year, 1991. He turned over the program to Dar Townsend.

"We always tried to be sound fundamentally. One aspect of a baseball coach is building skills," Shelton said.

Thompson said he knew Shelton for about 10 years. "We met at a Southern Illinois University baseball camp. He was an outstanding pitching coach and he had an overall good grasp of coaching. He was very knowledgeable, but always made it fun for the kids and that is something far too often which we tend to neglect," Thompson said.

Both of Shelton's sons, Derek and Craig, played for his Blue Devil teams. Derek went on to be a standout at Southern Illinois University, his father's alma mater. Derek became the first Blue Devil to reach pro baseball, as he is in the New York Yankees organization.

Craig plays for SIU.

Warren and SIU conduct winter and spring camps.

"The key to quality baseball is to have a quality athlete. I found I had the best teams when they played football, basketball and baseball," Shelton said.

Shelton, a former Baltimore Oriole farmhand himself, is in favor of baseball expansion. In part, it gives his sons a better chance to play at Wrigley Field or Comiskey Park. Photos of both sons are in the former coach's office.

Shelton credits former SIU coach Ichy Jones as influencing him. "He helped get me my job here," he said.

Shelton started as a drivers' education teacher and is now an assistant principal. School officials recognize Shelton's work.

"He deserves all the recognition he gets for the work he has done for baseball, not only at Warren, but for the community," Dr. Pat McMahon, superintendent, said.

Scharlau leads way in win, poor second-half start costly

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

College of Lake County women's basketball team broke into the win column against Moraine Valley but learned several lessons in pressure basketball from Rock Valley.

The Lancers downed Moraine Valley 71-60. Seventy-one was the lucky number again in the Rock Valley game, but this time the visitors prevailed 71-43. CLC stands at 2-4 as it prepares to face Triton in an away game Dec. 14.

Frosh Amy Scharlau of Wauconda led the way with 21 points. CLC led by nine at halftime.

Julie Frankowski, a Warren High graduate, had 13 points.

"We were patient on offense and that led to good shots, 43 percent," CLC Coach Don Zeman said of the win.

Christy Zink, a six-foot, one inch forward, led the Lancers against Rock Valley with 15 points. Heather Ford was next with 11 points and Scharlau had eight.

Reserve guard Melina Vick had a chance to see second-half playing time.

"She is steadily getting used to the offense," Zeman said.

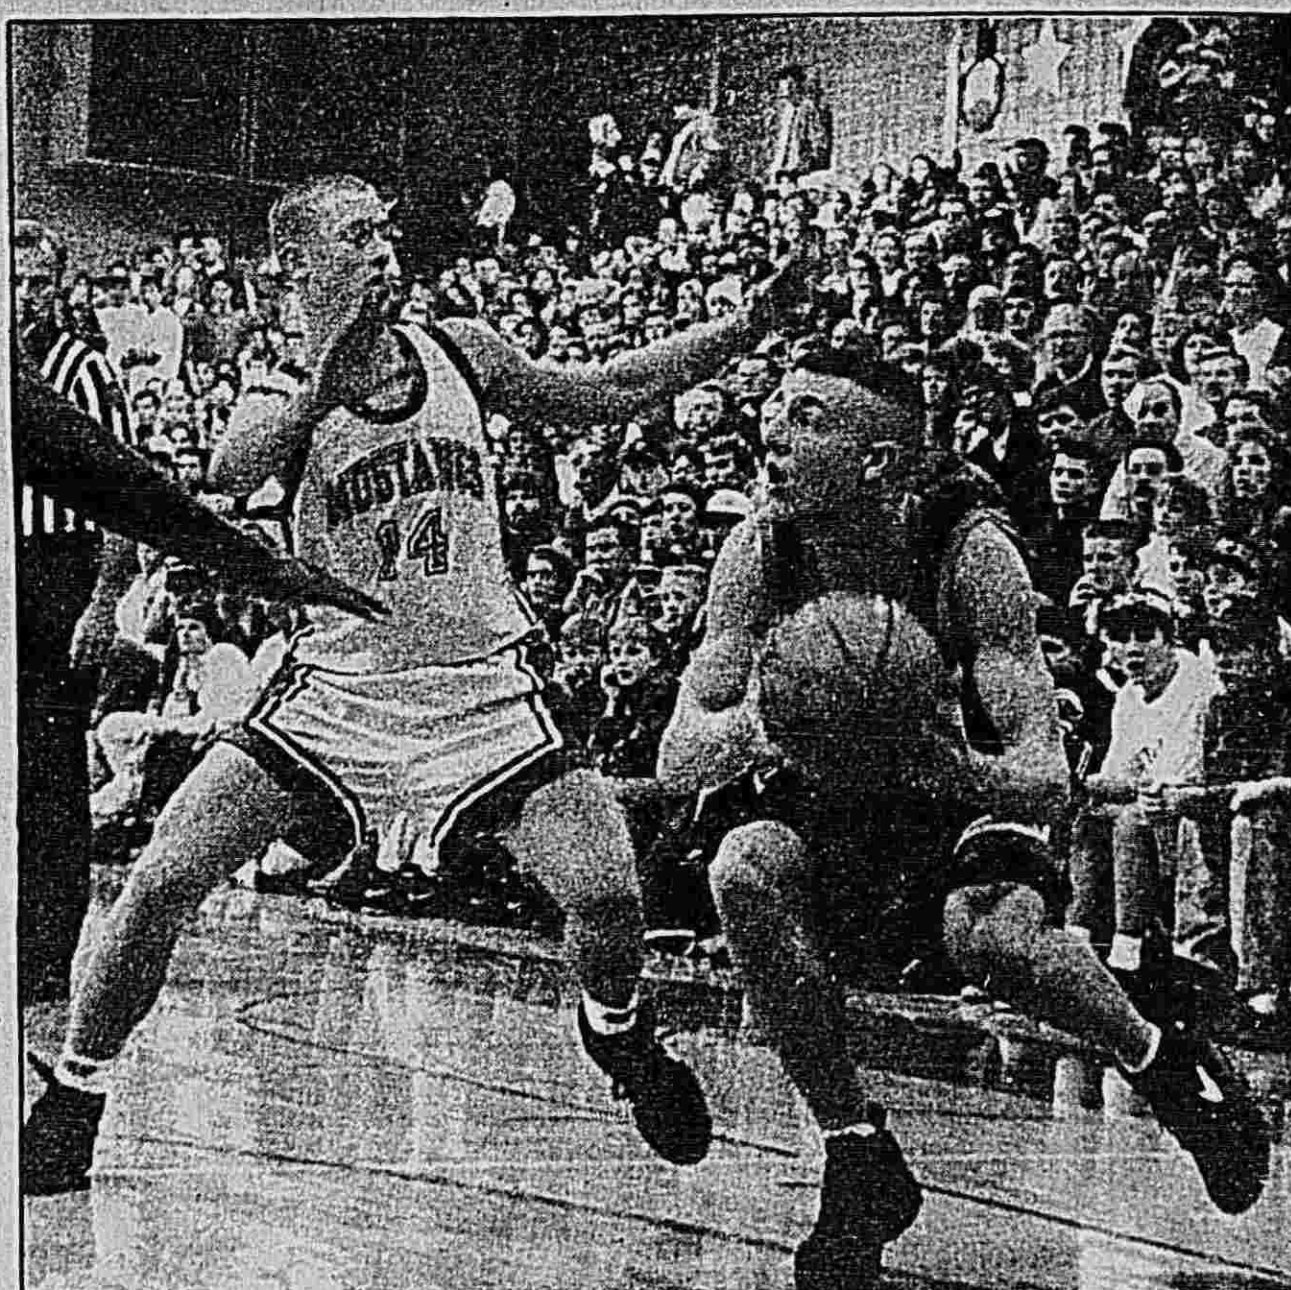

Rock Valley pressed the Lancers, but the effects of that defense may have come later.

"We had very few turnovers against the press. But we need to settle down in the half-court offense," Zeman said. "I was glad to see Zink pick it up offensively in the last 10 to 12 minutes," Zeman said.

CLC tied RV only briefly its first hoop by Ford.

Another Ford hoop brought CLC to within two, but a 17-5 Rock Valley spurt sealed this one. CLC trailed 28-16 at halftime.

Matters only got worse in the second half. The lead reached 20 points in the first five minutes.

Mundelein sharp-shooters have the first, last laughs

With the exception of a handful of actors rehearsing in a nearby auditorium, all eyes at Mundelein High were squarely fixed on the Libertyville-Mundelein boys basketball contest Friday.

The Mustangs did not disappoint the crowd of 2,000 in the jam-packed gym, using some pre-game humor to relax and then dominate Libertyville 89-81. Mundelein's offense was even more potent as it was tested in a thrilling 96-95 win the next night over Zion-Benton. Libertyville regrouped to top Antioch 60-57.

"My assistant, Todd Parola, said after practice that the team was too high," Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel said.

So Sean Stackhouse and Kyle Kessel teamed up for some comedy and the Mustangs (5-1, 2-0 North Suburban Conference) had a laugh by halftime. Stackhouse, a transfer from North Chicago, scored 30 points and Kessel had 22.

"We played well, but every year it goes on, we will get that much better. I've only been playing a month, I am just getting into the groove of things and we are blending more as a team," Kyle Kessel said.

"Stackhouse adds a lot. Kyle and Sean compliment each other well," Coach Kessel said.

Mundelein missed its first shot, but went on hot streak from there. The Mustangs had three-pointers from Gerald Coleman (19 points) and Kessel for a 19-10 lead. Coleman, the hero in the win over Zion the next night, had a steal and a layup for a 14-point Mundelein margin.

After a tip-in by Thad Miller (14 points), lay-ups by Coleman, Miller and Stackhouse put this one out of reach at 33-16 Mundelein, 35-18 lead after one.

Bickwermert, Lancers find the range with home wins

A newcomer to basketball played a major role as the College of Lake County's men's basketball team rallied from a five-point deficit to knock off Rock Valley 68-54 Saturday.

The Lancers' Steve Bickwermert, a Waukegan graduate, scored 21 points including four three-pointers and 10 points as CLC won the game with a 15-2 run.

The win was the third in four games for the 3-6 Lancers, who are at the Waukesha Tech tournament this weekend.

"I always could shoot threes. But I had to sit on the bench the second semester of last year due to a knee injury," the six-foot, one-inch, 198-pounder said.

Bickwermert whose points Saturday matched his age, said the two wins are "a big lift for us."

Coach Bruce Smith believes all are contributing to the team's turnaround. The Lancers had started the week with a thrilling 67-66 win over Moraine Valley at home.

"We had nine guys who had a heckuva game, not just one or two," Smith said.

Bickwermert received help from Warren grad Justin Hanlin and Waukegan grad Jerry Anderfuren, both contributing 10 points. Ramsey Williams had eight.

CLC was ahead by 11, 31-20, to start the second half. Rock Valley caught the Lancers in the first five minutes of the second half. RV built up a 50-45 lead with just over seven minutes to go. Seven-for-10 shooting from the field boosted the visitors' efforts.

Bickwermert started the comeback with a three-pointer, added a free throw for a one-point deficit.

Free throws by Chris Vaughan (five points) and Bickwermert and a lay-up by the leading scorer turned the five-point deficit to a five-point advantage.

The visitors, meanwhile, were in a four-minute shooting slump which included a turnover and a miss.

Vaughan, a Grayslake grad, hit an outside jumper for a 10-point lead. Mike Rudd kept the margin in double figures with two free throws.

Bickwermert was the hero Saturday, another Waukegan grad, Ronzeyl Newsome, saved the day against Moraine Valley. His free throw with 23 seconds left gave CLC the win. Newsome had nine points. Vaughan, a Grayslake grad, had 13 while Rocky Campanella, from Carmel, had 11.

Corsairs look to make hay with two ESCC home tilts

Carmel High School senior Landon Rose did not lead the Corsairs in rebounding Friday night.

But he had the most important one.

Rose grabbed a missed free throw from St. Viator which preserved a 57-56 win in the East Suburban Catholic Conference opener.

"Rose was in foul trouble most of the game as he got two quick ones in the first quarter. He sat the second and third quarters," Carmel Coach Ben Berg said.

The Rebound came just after The Shot and The Free Throw.

Carmel's Tom Drennan drilled a three-pointer for a 56-55 lead. Then Rick Koseor was fouled with 7.8 seconds left, making one.

The thrilling end made a memorable night for the first game in Carmel's new gym.

Brian Buckingham had 12 points including three three pointers, and a four-point play in the fourth quarter. Drennan had two treys among eight points.

The visiting Lions led 14-13 after one, but Carmel took the second and third quarters.

The Corsairs fell to unbeaten Brother Rice 75-47 Saturday. Dan Stasiak led CHS with 15 points.

"He is a three-year varsity player. We have to have him be a leader and score about 15 a game," Berg said.

Carmel stays at home in ESCC play, hosting Joliet Catholic Dec. 10 and Holy Cross Dec. 11 in 7:30 p.m. games.

"We need to rebound the ball better at the defensive end. That will be a key when we play bigger teams," Berg said.

"Brother Rice led by 16 at halftime and pulled away in the third quarter. They stepped it up a notch. They have all the tools," Berg said.

Carmel travels to Arlington Heights to battle Hersey Dec. 14.

Did you know an 8-year-old girl helped name the Super Bowl game? ...When football leaders were deciding what to call their championship game, Sharron Hunt, 8-year-old daughter of Lamar Hunt, who owns the Kansas City Chiefs, had been playing with a black rubber ball called a "super ball"—and from that she got the idea to suggest to her Dad that pro football could name its title game the "Super Bowl". Lamar Hunt made that recommendation, and so the famous Super Bowl game really owes its name to a little girl.

Here's a fantastic football fact... The Waco (Tex.) High School team of 1921 had such a great defense that they did not allow any team to get past their 35 yard line ALL SEASON!... Can you imagine a tougher defense than that?

Ever hear about the man who was known as the "Ironman of Football"?... He was Leo Lynch who—amazingly—played EVERY minute of EVERY game for Villanova University for 4 YEARS from 1914 through 1917—never coming out for a substitute on ANY play in ANY game!... That's hard to believe, but true.

Sequoits grapplers whip Lake Forest in opener

by ALEC JUNG
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch sent a loud message to fellow North Suburban Conference members by trouncing Lake Forest 56-9.

The Sequoits dominated their opponents scoring pins and racking up major decisions on the way. The Sequoits lost only three matches the entire contest. Coach Ted Sieckowski praised the performance of the team.

"We showed our opponents in the North Suburban conference what is ahead for them," Sieckowski said. "Antioch, Libertyville and Stevenson are going to be in the thick of the conference race this year."

Antioch started off slowly losing decisions at 105 and 112 pounds. Scouts Dean Dixon decisioned Lucas Dyer 9-5 and John Nearon at 112 edged Justin Dyer 8-6.

The rest was complete Sequoit domination. From 119 to 135 Antioch scored pins. Chris Petykowski pinned Don Hainen at 1:29, at 125, Steve Zalapi pinned Ken Dixon at 2:11, at 130, Jason Krause won in a fall at 5:43 over Eric Done, at 135 Bob Patterson notched a fall over Toni Alberti at 3:34.

Jim Stevens at 140 and Joe Earl at 145 scored major decisions. Heavyweight Mike Shea won in a fall at 1:40. Jason Breen at 152, John Osmond at 171 and Chris Hagge at 189 won in forfeits. Phil Berggrud of Lake Forest decisioned Brain Mache 3-0.

The Sequoits also had a strong performance in the rugged Stag Tournament. Antioch placed fifth in a field of 12 and ahead of Libertyville which finished sixth.

"I thought we could place in the top six. There were four teams that finished strong in state," Sieckowski said.

Sieckowski said the tough competition will prepare his team well for conference foes. "It help show what we need to do for the rest of the season. It lets them know the type of work it will take."

The individual standout was Mike Shea who won the heavyweight division in at Stag. "He had seven major decisions and scored a lot of points for the team."

The Sequoits will square off against conference opponents Fenton on Thursday, Dec. 9 at Fenton, Dec. 10 at Warren. They are gearing up for a tough tournament in Buffalo Grove on Dec. 11.

Antioch falls short

Julie Minuskin saved the best for last in her free throw shooting ability Tuesday at Antioch.

She missed eight of 11 free throws in 32 minutes of play. But in the overtime session, she saved the best for last, canning five to finish with 29 points as Warren survived 61-54.

Antioch turned a 17-point deficit into a three-point lead. But an offensive rebound by Pam Browne led to a three-pointer by soph Minuskin.

"That was a crucial rebound which was instrumental in tying it up,"

Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said.

Mandy Jacobsen had 19 points for Antioch. The Sequoits, 2-5, 0-2 NSC, are at North Chicago Dec. 11 while Warren (5-1, 3-0) hosts Lake Forest.

Erin Webster had 11 for Warren. The Blue Devils led 20-3 after one.

"We played our best quarter of the year and then we stopped," Campbell said. "We have peaks and valleys. We need to be more consistent."

Warren led 26-15 at half-time and 34-27 after three.

Power knocks out Stars 2-1

Lindenhurst Enigma (U-19) battled the team from Lake Forest to a 2-2 tie at Soccer Enterprises. The Enigma dominated the entire game only to be turned away on many quality shots by the Lake Forest goalkeeper. Goals were scored by Kelly Landgren (assist Sheri Kwiatkowski) and Colene Hardy (unassisted).

Lindenhurst Blitz (U-15) took on two-time defending State Cup U-16 Champion Buffalo Grove Lightning and suffered a 4-0 loss. This was a hard fought game from start to finish with very physical play on both sides.

This is the second loss in a row for the Blitz (1-3), only the second time the Blitz has lost two straight in 57 games played (indoor, outdoor and tournaments). The Lightning led 2-0 at the half. They scored again minutes into the second half. Trailing 3-0, Robin Levy scored what was clearly a goal with the defender going into the net trying to stop it, but the referee saw it differently calling it no goal. The Blitz seemed to lose their drive at this point and went on to let one more goal in. Stand-out players of the game were Nicki Kral, Sondra Lorang and Becca Bleyen, who stopped several quality shots in goal. The Blitz plays at Poplar Creek Sports Centre.

Lindenhurst Power (U-

13) won their second straight game by a score of 2-1 over the Glenview Stars. Strong up-the-middle play by Nicci Estep, Tracie Foster and Sarah Richardson were one of the keys to victory. The first goal was scored by Maureen Moran (assist Jamie Wismer), and the winning goal was scored by Reilly Fenters on a booming shot into the upper left corner. The Power has evened their record at 2-2. All Power games are played at Soccer Enterprises, Highland Park.

Chain study released

Too many boats, yet fairly safe

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The results of the Army Corps of Engineers Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) has been released in draft form. The study dealt with the cumulative impacts of recreational boating on the Fox River and Chain O' Lakes area in Lake and McHenry counties.

The study, which cost $300,000, was prepared by the corps as part of its regulatory authority. The purpose of the study was to identify and evaluate the individual and cumulative impacts of boating and boat related developments within the Chain O' Lakes - Fox River study area.

Water quality, boat usage, and weather were monitored on a tri-weekly basis from May through October of 1992. The 24-hour observations were taken on Wednesdays and Saturdays to compare high boat traffic with low boat traffic. Boat owners were surveyed by telephone, and both site location counts and aerial observation counts were taken. Additional information was obtained from the coroners office and police departments.

Overall, the corps found, what no doubt any resident could tell them, that the waterway environment is negatively affected by the large number of boats on the water. However, there was some good news from the report also.

The good news first. The human safety record for the Chain is remarkable. From June of 1982 through December of 1991 there were only 31 water related fatalities which include swimming, boating, fishing, or snowmobiling accidents. There were 21 in Lake County and 10 in McHenry. With the exception of 1986, where five boaters died in a single accident on Fox Lake, an average of only three deaths occurred annually.

Of the 31 deaths, 15 occurred on the lakes, 15 on Fox River, and only one on Nippersink Creek. There were no deaths reported on Petite Lake or Lake Catherine in the reporting period, although one death occurred on Jan. 9, 1993 in a snowmobile collision. Seven of the deaths involved alcohol or drugs.

The bad news, as expected, was that the number of boats on the Chain on a Saturday far exceeded the resource capacity of the waterways. Resource capacity is based on the results of the water quality study. The study determined that boat traffic is most detrimental to the environment in water less than six feet deep. Unfortunately, 65 percent of the Chain O' Lakes and Fox River area is less than six feet. According to the report, the number of boats exceeded the resource capacity by approximately 400 percent on the weekends.

The social capacity of the waterways is compiled from calculations of acres required by boaters for various activities, a determination of the usable areas, and the proportion of activities and kinds of boats. The study determined that the social carrying capacity for the system is approximately 1,025 boats. According to the shore-based boat counts, which were conducted in July and August, the social capacity was exceeded by 40 to 50 percent on Saturdays, not exceeded on Wednesdays.

Overall, the study makes fascinating reading if you either live on the waterways or use them recreationally. A copy of the report is available in your public library. The report is the basis of the corps decision for their no net gain policy of granting pier, docks, and accessway permits. However, it is believed that the document will be invaluable to the waterway governing agencies to make informed decisions about waterway management.

Letters to the Editor

Fine performance

Down the Euphrates, catchy name isn't it? Especially for an improv. It's a name you would expect to find on a Broadway play, or in Chicago's theater group, but neither place fit the bill. Antioch Community High School held this improv at its Fine Arts Studio Theater.

You read and hear so much about today's youth being in gangs, doing drugs, shooting their peers, etc. This time it just wasn't the case. These fine students decided to put their energy into a more creative and positive area, like improv. They not only created an abundance of energy on the stage, but shared the energy with the audience as they lured an unsuspecting few up onto the stage to join in their folly.

Adults interacting with students, such a wonderment in today's society. Could they have stumbled on a way to bridge the gap between adult and teenagers? Young and old played together for just a brief moment confronting today's issues with humor. Yes! Just plain humor. If this is a way for our youth to dispel the fear and angers that they may have about life, then we should encourage more programs that will allow them to create a more positive environment in which they can grow. So it's hats off to a very fine group of young adults and we will all be looking forward to your next improv.

Round Lake Beach infrastructure plan delayed

by DENISE SCHAUFEL
Lakeland Newspapers

An infrastructure plan for the Village of Round Lake Beach was deferred by the village board. Trustee Tom Pfeeger was concerned that much of the funding for infrastructure plan, estimated at $20.1 million, was based on the passing of Home Rule, which was defeated in last November's election.

"We should redraft the financial plan, before we approve the infrastructure plan, not the financial plan," responded Attorney Donald Morrison. "We can change the financial plan at anytime, right now I don't know how you'll fund it, since Home Rule was not passed by the Village." The board decided to defer approval until the document could be updated with a new source of funding.

The infrastructure plan includes projects for drainage and flood relief ($6.1 million), sanitary sewer ($1.1 million), public buildings ($4 million), transportation and roads ($3.5 million), and water ($9 million). A proposed sales tax and real estate transfer tax were to be instituted if the village voted to establish itself as a Home Rule Unit, pre-empting state law disallowing such taxes. Of the $20.1 million estimated cost of the infrastructure plan, $11.5 million was to come from the Home Rule sales tax and real estate transfer tax.

Other projects are to be funded by re-financing the TIF district ($4.8 million), developers ($2.8 million), block grants ($2.5 million), federal government FEMA ($1.5 million), sewer and water fund ($3 million) and other sources ($2.5 million).

Drainage and flood relief projects affected by Home Rule include a proposed southwest detention lake ($2 million) and landfill needed in the Central Park Flood channel ($5 million).

Transportation and road projects affected include construction of the north half collector road on Orchard ($2 million) an upgrading of Clarendon Road ($75 million) and traffic signals at Rollins and Orchard ($25 million).

Almost all of the water projects are affected, which could lead to more water pressure problems if a dry summer should occur. These projects include installing a 12 inch water main at Sunrise ($75 million), a booster station at Nicole ($1 million), two elevated water tanks ($2 million), a second JAWA inlet and pumping station ($1.2 million) and the connection of 12 inch water trunk lines ($4 million).

In the village newsletter the only alternate funding option listed was the issuance of general obligation bonds or a loan that would have to be repaid through increases in either general real estate tax or water tax.

Calvary presents religious interpretation of Scrooge

by ALEC JUNG
Lakeland Newspapers

The Drama Department of Calvary Temple in Lake Villa will present "The Gospel According to Scrooge."

Step back into the Victorian Era of Charles Dickens "A Christmas Carol." There will be costumed characters with music and choreography, according to Elaine Walker, drama director.

"I'm very excited about what I've seen in practice and the way characters are handling their parts," Walker said. "People are going to be surprised at what they will see."

What to expect is plenty of singing and dancing. There is a special caroling scene where the entire cast sings. The Scrooge character sings several songs including "This Time" where Scrooge joins the carolers in singing a song.

Most of the costumes used in the play were handmade. The costumes took six to eight weeks to make, according to Walker. There are about 80 cast members, but there are 24 main characters.

The play runs from Dec. 17 to Dec. 19. The times are Friday, Dec. 17, and Saturday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p.m., and on Sunday, Dec. 18, at 6 p.m. For more information call Calvary Temple at 356-6181.

Holiday dining at the House of Joy

Take a break from the kitchen during the holiday shopping season and stop in at the House of Joy in Mundelein. Serving the best Chinese food in town. The restaurant features Mandarin, Hunan, Szechwan, and Cantonese food.

Located on at 310 Townline Road, in front of Service Merchandise and K-Mart, the restaurant is centrally located to serve all of Lake County. And, with family dining and carry-out, it is a great place to stop during the busy holiday season.

The House of Joy's most popular dish so far seems to be Sesame Chicken, a crispy, saucy delight featuring nuggets of tender, tasty chicken. Another favorite is the flavorful Hunan Beef with a mixture of fresh vegetables and velvety sauce. For customers who prefer seafood, the House of Joy prepares dishes with fresh lobster.

Diners are frequently treated to a demonstration of chef Fu's skills when he brings his cutting board and cleaver out to the dining room. Blindfolded, (Don't try this at home!) he will turn a piece of cabbage into slaw. The delicate flowers that garnish his dishes are quickly carved from ordinary vegetables.

Enjoy the Champagne Sunday Brunch from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30. The array features Roast Peking Duck every week along with a selection of four or five other popular entrees. Typical selections are Sesame Chicken, General Tso's Chicken, Orange Flavor Beef, and Seafood Deluxe, a delicious blend of shrimp, scallops, crabmeat, lobster and vegetables in a creamy sauce. The buffet offers an assortment of four appetizers, such as egg rolls, shrimp toast, potato croquettes with shrimp, pot stickers and fried chicken wings. Also included are fried rice, soft noodles, desserts, fresh fruit and a glass of champagne. Prices for the brunch are $8.95 for adults and 50 cents per year for children ages 3 to 10. Unlimited champagne is available for an additional $2.

The House of Joy is open from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and on Sunday. On Friday and Saturday the restaurant stays open till 11 p.m. For more information call 949-6181.
